Renew Full-Scale Air Blows at Europe

U.S. Bombers Attack Berlin and Brunswick

By WALTER CRONKITE

LONDON, May 19.—A 1,500-plane force of American heavy bombers and fighters smashed at Berlin and Brunswick today in a full-scale renewal of the pre-invasion assault on western Europe after a five-day lull caused by bad weather.

Taking advantage of clearing weather over the continent, wave after wave of Allied planes poured over the sunlit straits and by early afternoon the first of the official accounts of the new offensive were coming in.

One force of Allied planes staged a two-hour parade over an east coast town. Residents said it was the biggest formation they had seen throughout the war. Coastal observers reported later that other fleets were roaring eastward hour after hour.

MOSQUITOES ACTIVE

The R.A.F.'s second tactical air force issued the first official announcement of the day, reporting an attack by Mosquitoes and Typhoons on military targets in Northern France.

Soon thereafter, American headquarters confirmed the enemy reports of the strong attack on Germany. Shortly after the German warning system reported the attack on Berlin, the DNB transmitter fell silent for a time, then resumed transmitting yesterday's news items.

Axis radio stations fell silent from Vichy to the Baltic coast and the Nazi home radio service flashed warnings of two huge American bomber fleets converging on Berlin from the west and northwest.

Violent air battles swirled over hundreds of miles of German territory, the Nazi broadcasts said, asserting that swarms of Allied fighters were covering both raiding formations.

Invasion Ships Mass Off England

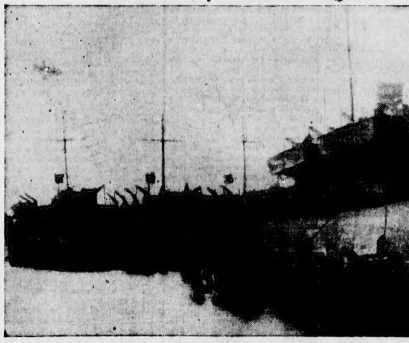

Photo radioed from London shows part of the huge invasion armada massing off the English coast, said to be the greatest number of ships off Britain since the Dunkerque evacuation. The Nazis, seeking a clew of D-Day, are sending hundreds of night bombers to blast and photograph parts of southern England.

Sell Many Bonds

Complete Deal For Refinancing Part City Debt

Deal for the refinancing of $9,150,000 of Edmonton debentures held in the United States has been completed, according to word received at the Civic Block by City Commissioner John Hodgson from Mayor John W. Fry.

In his telegram announcing the completion of the deal Mayor Fry stated that already more than $6,000,000 of the new issue had been subscribed for.

This is the second large refinancing that has been completed by the city this year. The first deal was put through several months ago and involved $1,770,000 of bonds held chiefly by the Edmonton sinking fund board.

Under the terms of the agreement just concluded the city will call approximately $4,500,000 of bonds for Aug. 1 next. These are bonds of the same issue as those now refinanced in the United States but held by Canadian and United Kingdom investors.

It is understood that negotiations with Canadian financial interests will be opened in the near future for the refunding of further portions of the city's debt. It was learned also that this proposed refunding would be carried through entirely within Canada.

Germans Boast Their Retreat Is Successful

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—A German broadcast assertion that there is no such thing as an Adolf Hitler line in Italy was echoed today by the Nazi-controlled Rome radio.

The office of war information said Rome, following in the path outlined yesterday by the Berlin radio, had declared:

"Enemy propaganda statements that the Adolf Hitler line has been reached and passed are pure imagination, since such a defence line has never existed anywhere on the Italian front.

"It is true on the other hand, that during the fighting in the past few hours the Allies and their mercenaries have been unable to prevent German units from reaching in perfect order lines farther to the rear, which were prepared some time ago."

Two Newsmen Killed in Italy

LONDON, May 19.—(AP)—Cyril Bewley, war correspondent for the Kemsley newspapers of Britain, and Roderick MacDonald, 32, correspondent for the Sidney Morning Herald and the London News Chronicle, have been killed at the Italian front, it was disclosed today.

Bewley walked into a minefield after leaving his jeep to take cover, the dispatch said, and his Australian colleague was killed at the same time.

Deaths of Bewley and MacDonald brought to 33 the number of Allied war correspondents killed in the present war.

Jurists Say:

Must Serve Jail Term As No Court Can Hear Appeal

Francis Toby Rivet, Fort Norman resident, is serving three years in Prince Albert penitentiary because there is no court with jurisdiction to hear an appeal by him from the conviction. In a majority decision of the Alberta court of appeal it was decided that the court was without jurisdiction to grant leave to extend the time for appeal or to hear an appeal brough by Rivet. The majority judgment was written by Chief Justice Hon. Horace Harvey and was concurred in by Mr. Justice H. W. Lunney and Mr. Justice W. R. Howson.

Concurring in the majority decision Mr. Justice Howson, in a written judgment stated, "I regret exceedingly that I am forced to this conclusion, because I am satisfied that on the evidence submitted upon the trial, this man should not have been convicted."

"It is possible that he may, in fact, be guilty, but in the eyes of the law, he is guilty only when proven to be, upon legal evidence. Such evidence was, in my opinion, not produced upon his trial. I am adding this paragraph only for the purpose of bringing this case to the attention of the Minister of Justice for his consideration," Mr. Justice Howson stated.

Eden Informs Commons:

Germans Shoot 47 Allied Airmen Attempting Escape

By ALAN RANDAL

LONDON, May 19.—(CP)—Forty-seven officers of the R.A.F., Dominion and Allied air forces were shot by the Germans after a mass escape from a prison camp near Dresden last March 22, Foreign Secretary Eden informed a shocked House of Commons today, and the Canadian Press learned six were Canadians.

Mr. Eden told the house 76 officers participated in the break from the camp, Stalag Luft Three.

Fifteen were reported recaptured alive and 14 are still at large, he said, on the basis of scanty information received through Switzerland, protecting power whose representative was informed of the incident by the Germans during a routine visit to the camp April 17.

Mr. Eden said some of the men were shot resisting arrest and some in the course of a new escape attempt after they were captured.

SHOCKED BY NEWS

"The government is profoundly shocked by the news and I have urgently requested the protecting power to demand from the German government a full and immediate report of the circumstances in which these men met their deaths, and an explanation of its failure to report the facts at once to the protecting power," Mr. Eden said.

The men were members of the R.A.F. Dominion Allied Air forces, the customary terminology embracing the R.C.A.F., R.A.A.F., R.N.Z.A.F. and other nationals.

LONDON, May 19—The conference of Empire prime ministers was a "great success" and gave them an opportunity to renew old contacts and make new ones, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told a group of Canadian newspapermen here today.

"It gave us an opportunity to get to know one another better," he said.

The Canadian prime minister looked fitter than when he landed in Britain for the conference.

Mr. King shook hands with the assembled correspondents and thanked them for their excellent coverage of the conference to Canada.

Showers Assist Northern Fires

Local scattered showers throughout the north country late Thursday and Friday have come to assistance of fire-fighting crews combatting forest fires in the Grande Prairie, Hines Creek and Slave Lake areas, T. F. Blefgen, provincial forestry director, stated Friday.

"The situation is slightly improved today," the official said. "Local scattered showers have reduced the fire hazard, and fair progress is being made."

No definite reports were received as to control of the large fires, where timber inspectors are directing operations of large crews against the outbreaks.

Little change in temperature was forecast for Edmonton Friday by meteorological officers. The prediction states, "Cloudy, a few scattered showers in the afternoon, decreasing smokiness, little change in temperature."

Minimum temperature recorded Thursday was 54 degrees. At 8.30 a.m. Friday, the thermometer read 54 degrees, and today's minimum is set at 48 degrees.

British, Canadians, Poles Within Striking Distance Of Hitler Line's Anchor

By REYNOLDS PACKARD

NAPLES, May 19. — Defeated German forces were in full retreat on the lower Italian front today under French and American pressure, while on the Cassino sector United Kingdom, Canadian and Polish troops of the Eighth Army drove to within striking distance of Piedmonte, northern anchor of collapsing enemy line.

(This dispatch was the first indication that Canadian troops other than tanks were participating in the powerful new Allied offensive against the Germans in Italy.)

(A German high command report broadcast by the German radio tonight said Allied spearheads have linked up between Esperia and the Cassino mountains and have launched an attack on a wide front. The attacks were particularly severe at Pontecorvo and Sant' Olivia, the Germans said.)

The German retreat approached but had not reached the proportions of a rout. Yielding the right wing of their vaunted Hitler line, the Nazis were abandoning rich stores of equipment, including the big guns of two entire divisions.

Front dispatches revealed that American mobile forces were speeding westward beyond captured

Reconnaissance showed the biggest building in Gaeta, covering several blocks, aflame as the Nazis

Nazi Paratroop Division May Attack Britain

LONDON, May 19.—(CP)—The Germans have massed gliders and transport planes in concealed hangars along the European coast in numbers sufficient to drop at least one airborne division on Britain, the London Daily Mail said today, asserting its information came from "excellent sources."

British authorities do not rule out the possibility of such a German counter-invasion. The enemy troops might be assigned to knock out nerve centres vital to the Allied war machine.

The Daily Mail said the German aircraft reported assembled along the channel coast included some huge six-engined Dorniers, each capable of carrying 150 men. The paper mentioned medium gliders and Junkers 52 transports as also in the enemy array.

Canadian Infantry's Presence In Italo Drive Now Revealed

NAPLES, May 19.—(CP)—Presence of Canadian troops in the new Italian offensive was disclosed today as French troops broke into the Hitler line at its very centre and the Allies hammered all along the front at this new mountain wall manned by the Germans after "a disorderly retreat."

Canadian and British troops, with armored support, continued an advance through the Liri valley that has carried them to the fringes of the Hitler line, said a front report from Doug How, a Canadian Press war correspondent with the 8th Army.

Canadian infantry participation was disclosed for the first time today in background material in connection with the daily communique.

They moved into the fighting line in the late stages of the operation which smashed the Gustav line during the past few days and went forward at a pace that made men think of Sicily and early stages of the Italian campaign.

Canadian armor of an independent formation had already played a vital role in pushing the advance

Aussie Newsmen Say City Well Known 'Down Under' Due to Air Training Plan

Through Australian airmen who have been stationed here while training under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, the City of Edmonton has become very well known all through Australia, according to three "Aussie" newspapermen touring this country as guests of the Canadian government.

The three Australians, Fred Smith, Melbourne, chief of the Canberra bureau, Australian United Press; Don Whitington, Sydney Daily Telegraph, and Alan Dawes, the Melbourne Herald, arrived in the city Thursday afternoon after a 5,000-mile inspection tour through the Canadian north and west.

They were enthusiastic as to Edmonton's reputation in their home country.

Dr. Subasic, former governor of Croatia, declined comment, but it was learned he had seen King Peter and that important developments in administration of the country's affairs might be expected within a few days.

OTTAWA, May 19—The Saskatchewan election campaign had stormy reverberations in the banking and commerce committee of the Commons today when Walter Tucker (Lib. Rosthern) charged the C.C.F. with wanting "the same kind of socialized banking system in Canada that they have in Russia."

C.C.F. leader M. J. Coldwell protested the statement immediately and notified the committee that he would deal with it at length when Mr. Tucker had finished his examination of Bank of Canada governor Graham Towers.

J. W. Noseworthy (C.C.F. York South) interjected that it was "simply a matter of Saskatchewan politics."

Rain Only Hope To Halt Forest Fires in North

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., May 19—(CP)—Fourteen major forest fires east of the rockies in northern British Columbia were so far beyond control yesterday that all forests in that area and the Peace River block were closed by R. G. Gregor, district forester, with the statement that rain alone could halt the sweep of the flames.

Mr. Gregor returned here yesterday to supervise fire fighting in the area west of the rockies where the situation was still precarious, but where manpower was available to put up an organized fight against the flames.

COVER LARGE AREAS

Fires in the area east of the rockies each over areas of 10,000 acres or more. One fire has already burned through a 27-mile section along the Alaska highway. Another in the same area has devastated some 70 square miles of timber land and now is raging 40 miles west of Dawson Creek, B.C., in an area which fringes the Pine Pass survey route planned to link northern B.C. with the Alaska road.

"Ten thousand men could not cope with it," said Mr. Gregor on his return here. "There are not enough people in the remote areas and a shift of wind would be disastrous."

The forester's closing order means that a man caught lighting a match in the area would be arrested.

FIRES BEYOND CONTROL

Mr. Gregor said that with the exception of blazes in the Hudson Hope area, fires throughout the Peace River block were beyond control. Loss in the Sweetwater area alone would raise lumber costs in Peace River district for the next 20 years.

two miles beyond the Rapido acting in support of Indian ground troops.

"The Canadians are in a major battle for the first time since last December's Moro river campaign. Until they joined the 8th Army in this offensive, their activity had been confined to patrolling in the Adriatic sector.

If Lt.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns' entire Canadian corps is in action, it means the first real fighting for the armored division, which is made up of an armored brigade and an infantry brigade. However, the armored brigade may not be used yet, leaving armored warfare to the 1st Canadian army tank brigade, veterans of Sicily and Italy.

Post-War Fur Program Urged

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Rehabilitation of Canada's fur resources as a means of helping Indians in the post-war period was urged yesterday by D. J. Allan, superintendent of Indian reserves, before the Commons reconstruction committee.

A fur program would not only have value in assisting the 2,443 Indians now in the armed forces, but would be of value to Canada in general, Mr. Allan. Experience, particularly at The Pas, Man., had proven that fur projects were self-liquidating.

At The Pas 843 families this year averaged $450 a year each for one month's work trapping muskrats. The money was paid them in instalments of $25 a month—a policy that had proven successful in improving the general living standard of Indian families.

Mr. Allan outlined a fur rehabilitation program that would cost a total of $3,100,000. Work could be immediately undertaken in extending muskrat development in Saskatchewan and Athabasca delta areas in Alberta at a total cost of $300,000.

Court Decides Lacks Authority To Grant Appeal

Alberta court of appeal Rivet was represented by Neil D. Maclean, K.C., and Nelles V. Buchanan, K.C., acted for the crown.

In a dissenting judgment Mr. Justice Frank Ford held that Rivet had the right of appeal to the court under the 1943 amendments to the Criminal Code. He said that "this division having jurisdiction to hear Rivet's appeal, I am unhesitatingly of the opinion that the case is eminently one in which the application to extend the time for giving notice of appeal and notice of application for leave to appeal should be granted."

GROUNDS FOR APPEAL

"Not only do I think there are grounds for appeal, which the appellant should be permitted to have considered, but, having read the transcript of the evidence taken at the trial, I am of the opinion that a new trial should be ordered.

"Apart from the trial having been in unsatisfactory one in other respects, the accused should not have been convicted on the evidence.

"I would extend the time so that the appeal may be brought on at the next sitting of the appellate division at Edmonton," Mr. Justice Ford stated in his minority judgment.

Mr. Maclean, counsel for the prisoner, stated Friday that he was making representations to the Minister of Justice seeking the immediate release of his client.

NO JURISDICTION

The majority judgment of the court held that "This court of appeal acquired no jurisdiction to hear appeals and therefore applications to hear appeals or for extension of time in the case of conviction made before the 1943 amendment was passed conferring jurisdiction on it, there being nothing in the amendment to indicate that it was to have any retrospective effect."

Rivet was convicted by Magistrate M. Meikle, stipendiary magistrate for the North-West Territories at Fort Norman on July 15, 1942, on a statutory offence charge and was sentenced to serve three years in Prince Albert penitentiary.

Rivet endeavored to appeal and, with the assistance of the R.C.M.P. obtained from Dr. J. A. Urquhart, a stipendiary magistrate for the N.W.T., an appointment to hear his appeal, and was served with a notice returnable on Nov. 6, 1942.

Rivet's solicitor, Mr. Maclean, was advised by the department of justice that Dr. Urquhart had no jurisdiction to hear the appeal and the hearing was cancelled.

Following this cancellation action was taken to bring the appeal in the Alberta appeal court.

Allied Airmen Shot by Nazis During Escape groups in the R.A.F. like the Poles, the Netherlanders and the Norwegians.

The dead included several heroes of the Battle of Britain and other spectacular R.A.F. operations.

The shooting was disclosed by German authorities to a representative of the protective power "in the course of a routine visit to the camp on April 17," Mr. Eden said.

"Names of the officers shot were furnished to the representative and the next of kin were informed.

GERMANY RESPONSIBLE

"The House will wish me to express its deepest sympathy with the relatives and pay tribute to the courage and high sense of military duty shown by all these gallant officers."

Sir Percy Harris, Labor, asked if Mr. Eden would "make it clear that the German government is responsible for all breaches of international law.

"That certainly is my position," Mr. Eden replied, referring to his request to Switzerland for an investigation.

First word of the fliers' fate came yesterday when relatives in England, given brief formal notification by the Swiss government of the deaths, began inserting obituary notices in the London papers.

Only details given the families was the official "shot trying to escape."

ATTEMPTS MENTIONED

The fliers, like most war prisoners, had made efforts to escape and had even mentioned them in letters to relatives.

It was considered here the most significant circumstance is the failure of the German authorities to report the shootings and the secrecy which was maintained until inspecting officers of the protecting power visited the camp a month after the incident.

Before leaving for any operation air personnel are warned that should they be taken prisoner and escape they should not resist rearrest.

Article 50 of the Prisoners of War Convention provides that prisoners recaptured before they are able to rejoin their own armed forces or leave enemy territory shall be liable only to disciplinary punishment of which imprisonment is the severest form.

International law sanctions shooting in attempts to halt escapes, however.

That the escape might have been made by tunneling was hinted in a letter from Flt. Lt. R. C. Stewart of London, England, captured after he parachuted uninjured through an apartment house roof during a raid on Essen.

A pre-war tunneling expert, he wrote cryptically that he was "getting his hand in again at his old job."

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Justice Minister St. Laurent, acting secretary of state, said today in the Commons the Canadian government has joined in a request for a "full and immediate report" of circumstances surrounding the shooting of six Canadians, among 47 R.A.F. and Empire airmen killed as they attempted a mass escape from a German prison camp near Dresden.

Mr. St. Laurent formally informed the House of the affair at the opening of today's session.

Mr. St. Laurent described the affair as a "shocking incident."

He said:

"As soon as word was received in Ottawa the Canadian government acted in the urgent request to the protecting power, mentioned in Mr. Eden's statement; that a full and immediate report of the circumstances be demanded from the German government and an explanation of the failure to report the facts at once to the protecting power.

EXPRESS SYMPATHY

"I am sure that I shall be expressing the feeling of the Canadian government and of this house when I say that we, too, are profoundly shocked at this news and that we wish to extend our deep sympathy to the relatives of the brave Canadians who lost their lives in these distressing circumstances."

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative house leader, said he wished to join with Mr. St. Laurent in expressing sympathy to the next-of-kin of the victims.

"It just goes to show you the type of people we are fighting against in this war," said Mr. Graydon. "This shows the bold contrast between the way we treat prisoners here and the way they are treated over there."

Airport Captured In Surprise Move

By WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, May 19—Capture of the big Wakde air base by American invasion forces in a 125-mile amphibious jump from Hollandia presages the re-conquest of all Dutch New Guinea, whose western top lies only 650 miles from the Philippines, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced jubilantly today.

The invaders already were spreading out east and west of the Wakde are along the Dutch New Guinea coast against what MacArthur described as "only trifling opposition."

American sea borne troops, covered by a naval and air bombardment, seized Wakde island, 1,250 miles southwest of the Philippines, nearby Insoemanai island and the adjacent Toem area of the north coast of Dutch New Guinea Thursday in a surprise landing that quickly overwhelmed negligible enemy resistance.

Stassen Will Oppose Dewey at Convention

NEW YORK, May 19—(AP)—The Herald-Tribune says hopes of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's supporters that he would be the only presidential candidate at the Republican National convention were ended today with an announcement by Senator Joseph H. Ball (Rep., Minn.) that the latter would nominate Lt. Cmdr. Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota.

Nazis Retreat Before Troops Of Fifth Army

carried the scorched-earth policy to its extreme, and American outriders pressed forward, cleaning out the stragglers beyond Formia.

QUITE IMPROPER

Mr. Coldwell objected that Mr. Tucker's sarcasm with respect to Mr. Noseworthy was "quite improper," and suggested that Mr. Tucker was showing "a very nasty temper."

The incident closed with Mr. Tucker withdrawing his reference to Mr. Noseworthy as Mr. Coldwell's very humble and very devoted follower and with Mr. Coldwell withdrawing his allegation that Mr. Tucker had shown "a very nasty temper."

Earlier in today's sitting a clash occurred between Bank of Canada governor Graham Towers and Liberal M.P. Arthur Slaght, K.C., of Parry Sound over the latter's suggestion that $2,000,000,000 worth of outstanding Dominion government bonds should be acquired by the treasury and paid for with the currency of the Bank of Canada.

NAZIS SCRAMBLE

On the Fifth Army front below the Liri valley, the disorderly retreat was characterized by the fact that the Germans were splitting up into small units, each scrambling to save itself, rather than pulling back as a whole by any pre-arranged plan.

The enemy disorganization facilitated the rapid advance of the Fifth Army on a broad front, and leading French elements now were close to the Intri-Pico road, the lateral route parallel to and behind part of the Hitler line fortifications.

At the other end of the fast-shifting battle line, the British Eighth Army was closing against Piedmonte, northern bastion of the Hitler defence belt, and Aquino, three miles to the southwest.

The methodical British Eighth Army push had extended the front westward some five miles from the Rapido river line, where the offensive started. A New Zealand armored unit participated in the cutting of the Rome-Cassino highway and the mopping up of the fortress town in which all enemy resistance ceased yesterday. Polish infantry and tanks cleared the heights above Cassino.

YANKS REACH ITRI

In the south, American troops reached the outskirts of Itri, one of the main southern anchors of the enemy line, after an advance of nearly five miles along the main coastal road from newly-captured Formia.

(The German high command reported heavy fighting in the Esperia-Pontecorvo sector in which the Allies were attacking after several hours artillery preparation and with strong tank and air support. It said "one local break-in" near San Livia, 3½ miles northwest of Esperia and the same distance southeast of Pontecorvo was "sealed off in embittered fighting.")

Gen. Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander said the two Allied armies were pressing the enemy "vigorously back against the Adolf Hitler line" as the Rome-southward drive went into its second week as much as 17 miles beyond its jumig-off points in some sectors.

CONTACT MADE

"French and American troops of the Fifth Army have continued their drive across the mountains south of the Liri river and now are in contact with the enemy on hill features which constitute the southern bastions of the line," the communique said.

(Crossing of the Liri in the initial drive was made by Canadian tanks.)

The twin drives toward Itri and Piedmonte indicated that the main Allied strength may be thrown into an attempt to loop around either end of the Adolf Hitler line and attack from the rear, much as Cassino was outflanked and seized from the rear.

FORMIA OCCUPIED

American troops completed the occupation of Formia, a coastal outpost of the Hitler line, yesterday afternoon after cleaning out snipers who remained behind as a rear guard in an attempt to delay the Allied advance.

Patrols pushed on through the town even before it was mopped up and by late last night were reported to have reached the outskirts of Itri, junction of the main coastal highway to Rome and a lateral supply road running north to Pico parallel to and behind the Hitler line.

Allied artillery already was bombarding the Itri-Pico road.

Further north the rugged mountains below the Itri valley, French and American troops fought their way over high ground and through narrow passes to seize several important heights, including 4,000-foot Mt. Faghette, 6½ miles southwest of the Hitler line outposts.

Overlooking Itri-Pico road, Mt. Faghette lies some 17 miles beyond the starting point of the offensive against the smashed Gustav line a week ago last night.

TAKE MT. SAN MARIO

Fifth Army forces also captured Mt. San Mario, two miles north of Esperia on the southern edge of the Liri Valley, and worked their way up the slopes of nearby Mt. Lungo, a forward bastion of the Hitler line. Mt. San Mario overlooks Pontecorvo, another Hitler line stronghold.

Overrun in the Fifth Army advance was the village of Monticelli, on the Esperia-Pontecorvo road. The Germans sought to stall the Allied advance along the road with many anti-tank mines, but were forced into retreat again.

Allied planes of the Mediterranean Air Forces continued their strong support of the ground troops, pounding supply roads, railroad bridges, gun positions, communications lines and other targets as far north as Spezia.

Fighter bombers found especially choice targets along the roads immediately behind the Hitler line as the enemy, hastily re-forming his line to meet new Allied thrusts, was forced to move tanks, guns and infantry by daylight.

R.A.F. Wellingtons and Liberators attempted to block the Tyrrhenian coast road northwest of Itri by bombing an overhanging cliff at Terracina with block busters, while thunderbolts temporarily closed three tunnels on the Spezia-Lucca railway.

before the Saskatchewan election was ever heard of."

A few moments later Mr. Tucker referred again to the C.C.F.'s alleged advocacy of "a socialized banking system.

Mr. Noseworthy: "Saskatchewan again."

Mr. Tucker: "Well, may I ask the C.C.F. leader if the C.C.F. party is not still advocating a socialized banking system throughout Canada?"

Mr. Coldwell: "Certainly it is."

Mr. Tucker: "Well, the honorable leader's humble and devoted follower—very humble and very devoted—from Ontario (Noseworthy) doesn't seem to realize it."

QUITE IMPROPER

Mr. Coldwell objected that Mr. Tucker's sarcasm with respect to Mr. Noseworthy was "quite improper," and suggested that Mr. Tucker was showing "a very nasty temper."

The incident closed with Mr. Tucker withdrawing his reference to Mr. Noseworthy as Mr. Coldwell's very humble and very devoted follower and with Mr. Coldwell withdrawing his allegation that Mr. Tucker had shown "a very nasty temper."

Arthur Slaght, K.C., of Parry Sound over the latter's suggestion that $2,000,000,000 worth of outstanding Dominion government bonds should be acquired by the treasury and paid for with the currency of the Bank of Canada.

IRRESPONSIBLE IDEA

Governor Towers called the idea "an irresponsible one which does not take account of the consequences."

"I wish to be equally polite, so I will reply with the statement that the system as you are operating it today is a monopolistic one," Mr. Slaght replied:

He contended that the couse suggested would save close to $40,000,000,000 a year.

Governor Towers rejoined that its consequences would be "tremendous inflation," and reiterated that the idea was "half-baked".

Defenders Holding Grimly to Loyang

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, May 19.—The Chinese command announced today it had inflicted heavy casualties on a Japanese armored column closing a trap on large Chinese forces in western Honan province, while the threatened defenders in the area were reported holding grimly to the ancient city of Loyang.

Elsewhere on the Honan battleground the Chinese air force and the Chinese-American wing made extensive attacks on the invaders.

The Japanese armored column was pummelled in the vicinity of Changshuichen, approximately 70 miles southeast of Loyang, where it is driving northward toward Japanese forces from Shansi province which have taken several localities along the Lunghai railway.

The two invading forces are only 25 miles apart—the width of the escape route for the large Chinese forces in Loyang and to the west.

Allied Troops In Outskirts Of Myitkyina

KANDY, Ceylon, May 19.—(CP)—Allied infantry, with airborne reinforcements, have penetrated the outskirts of Myitkyina after capturing the town's airdrome, it was announced today.

The airdrome was seized two days ago in a surprise attack. It lies two miles south of the town.

While Chinese and American troops poured into the field by air from other elements of Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's forces, another column occupied the village of Navraw Sakan and threw a block across the Mogaung-Myitkyina road.

An official announcement said other troops were thrusting toward Myitkyina from the north.

On the India side of the Indo-Burma warfare, an Indian army brigade threw a road block across the Tiddim road south of Imphal to the south of the enemy's Mai position, Allied headquarters announced. Their march through the roughest country around the enemy's eastern flank cut off the Japanese 33rd Division, which had been attacking Imphal from the south.

The communique said many casualties were inflicted on the Gurkhas making up the brigade which repulsed Japanese counter-attacks.

Benefits of Pensions Act Urged for All Soldiers As Legislation Criticized

By JAMES McCOOK

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Opposition members of the Commons yesterday cast a critical eye on some aspects of pensions legislation, and suggested the insurance principle be applied to those in the services everywhere so they would be sure of compensation in the event of injury.

The House spent the afternoon in examination of pensions items under a pensions and national health department estimate of $9,000,000 for treatment and pension examinations for members and ex-members of the forces in the present war.

Discussion of pensions estimates occupied the House during the evening sitting and will continue today.

SEVERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Announcements at opening of the sitting were:

1. Finance Minister Ilsley said there would be an easing of travel restrictions between Canada and the United States with Canadians allowed to obtain up to $150 in United States funds for a single trip across the border in a 12-month period.

2. Justice Minister St. Laurent said September had been mentioned as a possible time for the holding of a United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration conference originally scheduled for June 23 in Montreal.

3. Postmaster Gener Mulock said the cost of airgraph letters to those in the forces overseas was being reduced from six to five cents, and civilian rates from 15 to 10 cents. He said the time required for the movement of mail to the forces overseas had been greatly reduced.

DISCUSS PENSIONS

G. S. White (PC—Hastings-Peterborough) said that at the start of the war the government said benefits of the pension act would apply to all soldiers, but a change had been made whereby the insurance principle did not apply to soldiers serving in Canada, although pensions could be granted on compassionate grounds. The change should be explained. A general service soldier had no choice as to whether he would remain in Canada or go overseas.

P. E. Wright (C.C.F., Melfort), Lt. Col. Arthur Ross (P.C., Souris), Howard Green (P.C., Vancouver South) and Clarence Gillis (C.C.F., Cape Breton South) all said they supported the insurance principle covering all those in the services.

Convalescent homes for veterans should be established on the prairies, as well as in Eastern Canada and the West Coast, as was proposed, said Mr. Wright. Hospital beds for veterans also should be provided in smaller centres not only in large cities. Some regular allowance should be provided for soldiers' wives when they required pre-natal care.

BENEFITS FOR WIDOWS

Col. Ross said the widow of a soldier who had a pension disability of less than 50 per cent should be granted a pension and should receive hospitalization and medical care on the same basis as a veteran receiving a war veteran's allowance.

Victor Quelch (S.C., Acadia) said he believed many soldiers' dependents had been deprived of pensions because the insurance principle was taken out of the Pension Act. In view of the severe training now given, the government was unfair in trying to prove that disability developing some time after enlistment was due to some pre-enlistment condition. The enlistment examination was thorough.

Rev. Daniel McIvor (L., Fort William) said he praised Pensions Minister Mackenzie and knew he did not want to save taxes at the expense of young men who risked their lives and came home less fit than when they left.

Answering Mr. Green, Mr. Mackenzie said that 94,000 had been discharged from the forces as medically unfit to March 31. This was out of a total of 129,000 discharges.

URGES PROPER TREATMENT

Mr. Green said care should be taken to see that the men felt they were being properly treated. The government seemed slow in getting rehobilitation plans underway.

"The government has shown a tendency only to go far enough to save face, and that only after a great deal of prodding," he said. "Now is the time to lay foundations for rehabilitation."

Mr. Green said he believed it would be difficult for many men now in the Veterans' Guard to obtain jobs after the war, and arrangements should be made for a service pension to be paid them.

These veterans were "becoming old," said Mr. Green and rehabilitation programs which might suit others in the forces would not do for them.

Weather Clearing In Dover Straits

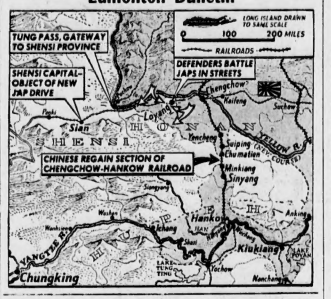

LONDON, May 19.—(CP)—The sky over the Straits of Dover was almost clear last night after a day of thunder showers, hail and occasional sunshine. Light northeasterly winds kept the temperature down. At 10.30 p.m. the reading was 39. The sea was smooth, visibility good and the barometer—steady most of the day—rose slightly. High tide at Dover and Calais Friday will be at 10.49 a.m. and 11.02 p.m.

Guessed Wrong

DETROIT, May 19.—(AP)—Henry Ford, who said in a copyrighted interview with the Atlanta Constitution on March 19 that he believed the war would be over in two months, said yesterday: "I had information at the time that led me to believe the war would or could be over within two months. I am sorry, as a lot of other people must be, that it is not over."

Pain Map of Arms, Legs Is Gained by Suffering

By RENNIE TAYLOR

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(AP)—Twenty-six physicians, medical students and nurses who voluntarily endured having their flesh and bones pierced by drills and needles without benefit of anaesthetic have made possible a pain map of the arms and legs.

The map helps doctors locate the point of origin of many undiagnosed pains. Often the hurt may be stopped quickly by a local anasthetic which hits squarely the centre of irritation.

Most painful operation in the map making was the drilling of the bones with a diamond-pointed shaft about the diameter of a darning needle. The pain was greatest as the diamond point passed through the thin membrane surrounding the bone. Least painful was the pushing of needles through the muscles.

The volunteers not only had to endure the pain but also to describe it accurately enough so it could be evaluated by others and charted. They broke into sweats, their faces blanched. Some were nauseated. Some needed medical attention for a couple of days thereafter.

The work was done by Dr. Verne T. Inman and Dr. J. B. de C. Saunders. Pain which originates deep in the flesh, or next to the bones, apparently radiates far up and down the arm or leg, sometimes the full length.

The arm may become sore from wrist to shoulder from a needle-point injury.

The map shows five long, irregular wedge-shaped areas of the arm and six in the leg. A deeply seated pain, Inman and Saunders report, is likely to radiate only within the particular area of its origin. The chart thus helps the physician to locate the origin, much as a national map with state boundaries simplifies the location of state points.

Sentence Upheld

MEXICO CITY, May 19.—(AP)—Prison authorities were formally notified yesterday that appeals court has upheld a 20-year sentence imposed on Jacques Mornard for the slaying of Leon Trotsky, exiled ex-Communist leader, four years ago. The appeals court also ruled Mornard must pay $7,000 to the widow, Natalia Sedov Trotsky, as indemnity.

A BRIGHTER SPOT ON ALBERTA AVE.

The new, modern equipment installed by GEROW'S as shown here is but another evidence of the growing popularity of Alberta Avenue as a business centre.

Residents of the district have found that local merchants here can give service and supply goods equally as well as many of the larger downtown stores. Moreover, the friendly, courteous service rendered by the neighborhood stores makes shopping a pleasure instead of an ordeal.

Credit, in large measure, must be given the Alberta Avenue Community League for the part they have played in the creation of this thriving business section. Entertainment and recreational facilities have been provided by this enterprising community league, they having built and maintained tennis courts, bowling greens, curling club, dance hall and skating rinks for the enjoyment of all. These facilities, together with the local "Avenue Theatre" have done much to foster the "Buy at Home" spirit of the residents of the "Avenue".

Mr. Gerow is to be congratulated for his enterprise and for the faith he has shown in the district by providing, at no small cost, a modern, up-to-date eating establishment where modern refrigeration equipment of every description has been installed to ensure that all foodstuffs served will be clean and wholesome.

Canadian Naval Mission Overseas Now Established

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—Navy Minister Macdonald announced last night the offices of senior Canadian flag officer (overseas) and senior Canadian naval officer (London) have been combined and now will be known as Canadian Naval Mission Overseas. Headquarters will be at London, England.

Vice-Admiral P. W. Nelles, senior Canadian flag officer (overseas), will head the mission, the minister announced. Capt. F. L. Houghton, formerly senior Canadian naval officer (London), has been appointed deputy head of the mission.

Mr. Macdonald said establishment of the mission served "to emphasize the growing importance" of Canadian naval activities overseas, where several thousand officers and men now are stationed.

They Serve

This year the Young Men's Christian Association celebrates the one hundredth anniversary of its founding and Edmonton officials are preparing to honor the occasion in a striking way.

There is little use expatiating on the purposes and work of the Y.M.C.A. because the institution is so universally honored throughout Canada that everyone knows pretty well what these are. Nor do statistics of its enormous growth matter a great deal although it is interesting to note that the Canadian movement which started in Montreal in 1851 has now expanded to 73 major branches and a membership of 53,000.

The vital thing is to know and appreciate the point of view with which the Y.M.C.A. approaches its job of serving the young man in this and other countries.

The organization is devoted to brotherly love, hospitality, sports, education, tolerance, vocational guidance and patriotism. It seems that every factor which goes to make up a healthy civilization is present somewhere in the program of the Y.M.C.A.

For its work in helping to build up a Christian society throughout the world, the Y.M.C.A. has earned the gratitude and respect of the entire nation.

Mandalay to Murmansk

There is nothing surprising in the news that Canadian airmen flying with R.A.F. formations are in the thick of the fighting on the Indo-China border. More than a year ago it was known that some of them were in that theatre, it was a Canadian observer who signalled that a fleet of Jap bombers were on their way to attack Colombo two years ago, and thereby ensured a reception the raiders were not looking for.

War news from almost every front or has been local news for people in Canada, because on nearly all of them Canadians have been or now are engaged. Those at home who want to keep track of our fighting men have need of war maps, and must look at them often; maps which show in some detail regions about as far apart as places can be on this globe.

Kohima and Myitkyina had never been heard of by most of us until a few months ago. Who knew anything about Ortona or Pescara until they flashed into the wartime headlines? Narvik was strange to Canadian ears in 1939. Who knew much about Spitzbergen five years ago? But these place-names and scores of others scattered as widely will never be meaningless to us again. In these areas Canadians have fought, and are fighting Germans, Japs, Italians, and Quislings of numberless breeds.

The adult population of the Dominion is getting a tremendously interesting course in world geography because our men have wandered so far afield. Indeed enough there are Edmonton men in the planes over Burma at this moment, and others rounding the tip of Normay en route to Murmansk!

Crops or No Crops?

Graduates at the Ontario agricultural college were urged by Dr. Cody, head of the University of Toronto, to "Consider, the close link between forestry and agriculture. There is grave danger that the central part of Ontario will revert to a dust bowl unless trees are planted and a system of reforestation established."

Those who are even casually familiar with the climatic trend in that peninsula over the last forty years or so can see in the record evidence that Dr. Cody was talking sense. The frequency of destructive storms in that area has increased as the farms were stripped of the old-time "woods" which used to occupy a few acres on the back end of every holding. A series of dry years is all that is needed to make Ontario people almost as familiar with dust-storms as people on the prairies have become.

That is a problem for Ontario to deal with. But the moral is equally important to other parts of Canada. It is particularly important to the large area in the west where the plains were treeless when the settlers arrived. But it is not even there that the value of forest areas most needs to be stressed, for farmers who have seen their crops blown out of the ground or withered by hot winds are fully aware, or should be, that they need shelter-belts and wind-breaks.

The part of the west in which this warning needs to be sounded is the part that was clothed with trees when settlement began. In this area, which includes northern and central Alberta and northern Saskatchewan and Manitoba, too little regard has been paid to the importance of preserving wooded belts, and almost no attention given to the creation of tree-shelter where nature did not provide it.

The penalty of continuing to denude this favored region of protection against wind and excessive evaporation can be stated in one compound word that is synonymous with crop failures. The word is soil-drifting.

The "Invasion" Is On

The enemy cleared out of Cassino—"according to plan" of course—when the Allied enveloping operations were a week old. A month ago they held the place against heavy attacks extending over more than a week. Different tactics, or stronger Allied forces, may have made the difference. The Gustav line broken, the Hitler line is the next objective, and is said to be less formidable.

The opening phase of the new offensive indicates that it is the beginning of an all-out drive to capture Rome and throw the enemy back into northern Italy, not simply a manoeuvre to draw more of Hitler's troops from his eastern or western frontiers. The Fuehrer in any case cannot afford to ignore that possibility, and must buttress his southern front at whatever risk in the east or the west. An Allied sweep up the peninsula would change the set-up to his peril in several ways.

For one thing the Adriatic would be converted virtually into an Allied "lake". This would make possible the throwing of Allied forces into Yugoslavia to bolster the guerilla armies and establish a Balkan front of sinister potentialities for the Nazis. Bulgaria, already foreseen by the Russians in Romania, would be practically immobilized, Greece cut off from the Reich, and Hungary brought within striking distance from two directions.

Unless appearances deceive, the "invasion" is on, with the first of multiple assaults on the Hitler defences launched against his Italian—and weakest—front.

The radio committee of parliament decided that the Social Credit Association should be given free time on the CBC. That presumably ends the controversy and the directors will adjust their schedules accordingly. It was to the committee, not the directors, the question should have been referred in the first place. If the CBC is to be kept free of accusations of political bias the directors will have to be relieved of responsibility for making decisions in which party interests are involved. It is up to the committee to deal with such matters.

In these curious times it is of meaning even to Canadians that the heaviest frost in years struck and severely damaged the orchards in some of England's best fruit-growing counties. The home-grown supply of apples and other tree and bush fruits will be short in consequence—and more of those foods will have to be shipped from Canada, the nearest of the fruit-exporting countries. Canadians may thus find their shelves and bins less well supplied next winter than they would like to have them —because England has had a killing frost in May.

Wants Words of Irish Songs

Intrigued by Traditional Texts Always Used by Comics

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—For many years, starting on or about July 12, 1923, I have wanted to know the words of one of those songs which Irish comedians entitled, Paddy McCarthy's Wake or Dinny O'Reilly's Wake or Mickey McGinty's Wake. It doesn't make any difference which one for they are all pretty much alike, being largely composed of rhyming names such as Donnelly and Hooley, Burke and McGurk, Flannigan and Hannagan, and so forth, on and on. Pat Harris at one time used to sing it to them, at Jack White's club and there have been many others. The singer must be Irish or otherwise otherwise some Irishman in the audience is pretty sure to suspect that his ancestors are being insulted and turn over a table and raise a nasty mess. If an Irishman does the song, however, nobody takes offence and the Irish in the audience beam and laugh at every pore and everything goes off very well.

Westbrook Pegler

It is a fast song, starting out about as follows:

"Sure, Pat McCann was an Irishman,
He came from County Cork,
He sailed across the ocean deep
To little old New York."

Well, then, he meets Bridget O'Reilly, and they get married and have quite a few children, and all this and that, and finally, one night McCann gets all dressed up and goes to Paddy McCarthy's Wake or Dinny O'Reilly's or Steve O'Donnell's. (Vote for one.)

Not until the other night when I dropped in to hear Gordon Hughes at the Waldorf did I realize how simple it all is. Mr. Downey, of course, is Irish, and he does one for an encore and, although I should have recognized the quick tum-tum tempo and the faint imitation of the bagpipe in the orchestration, I idn't realize that he was doing a Wake song until he started moaning: "Wi-Diddy-Di, Wy-Diddy-Di-Diddy-Di."

As Morton went on it dawned on me that all this time I had been hankering to know the words of a song that really doesn't seem to need any fixed, or official words at all. I mean at all, at all, the Irish idiom.

What you do is give them the names. Lots of names, fast. Finnegan came in agin, and Rooney and Mooney, Rafferty, McCafferty, Kiley and Riley and Finn and Quinn getting louder and faster as you go, and stamping your foot and beating the top of the piano with the flat of your hand. To show you how liberal, how optional the words are, if somebody gets up from a table in the middle of the song and starts across the floor to leave the room, and the artist says, "first door on the left," even that fits nicely into the text and everybody laughs just as much as if he had stuck to the script.

I have never had any particular reason for wanting to know the words. But I know the words of Abdullah Bull-Bull and the Bag-gage Car Ahead and Frankie and Johnny, both versions, co-ed and stag, and quite a lot of others, and I just thought it would be nice and nice to know the Wake song or one of them. Singing is a little out of my line, although, at that, I am a lot better than some of those old bucks who continue to crowd the hotels in our big towns for important conventions of war industries and, after hours, get together in Suite K on the 22nd floor, with a long white table laid out with rye, Scotch, charged water, old-fashioneds, Manhattans and Martinis, and build a singing bar, and pretty soon begin to meet others who served in the same division in France and rip into the Old Gray Mare, and Mademoiselle From Armentieres and One Keg of Beer for the Four of Us. Those songs are a growing pathetic in a way. The voices are getting older and the tenor goes way off and ends in a struggle, and they are even beginning to forget some of the words they used to know so well. Young fellows in uniforms of the present war stop in sometimes to hoist a few and look at those old men with a puzzled expression, wondering if they ever did anything but sing in World War I and if they had such a good time why all that hollering about adjusted compensation and pensions a few years back.

Well, it isn't important. I listened raptly to my friend, faintly realizing that something in me, my Irishness I guess you could call it, was laughing with him and glancing around, noticed that others who had a little of the same in their faces were responding hilariously as Mr. Downey whacked that piano and howled "Wi-Diddy-Di-Diddy-Di-Diddy-Di" and joined wildly in the applause as he wound up on that prolonged, ever-familiar note "And Houlahan did something or other at Paddy McCarthy's Wa-a-ake."

Is it Doughnut or Fried Cake?

Regardless of Name This Delicacy Is Easily Made At Home

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

To many people a doughnut is that type of pastry with a hole in the middle that has been fried in deep fat. To others this isn't a doughnut but a fried cake.

Here is a definition from one of our local housewifes who got her information from her New England ancestors: "Doughnuts are made of raised dough, cut into circular pieces and set to rise. After rising they are dropped into a kettle of hot fat, where they puff up into balls and become brown on the surface. Crullers and fried cakes, on the other hand, are made of dough leavened with baking powder—in colonial times soda served instead. For fried cakes, frequently misnamed as doughnuts and crullers, the dough is rolled out and cut into circles, and then a smaller circle is cut out of the centre of each cake. It is the fried cake that has the hole. The cruller is twisted or curled. Compare Chaucer's line about the young gallant and his ringleta 'as they were laid on cruelle'."

It seems that this question came up several years ago at the National Dunking Association's convention. The Association includes scores of such members as Benny Goodman, Bob Hope, George Burns and Gracie Allen, and they voted that a cruller was an elongated and twisted piece of dough, whereas a doughnut was a round cake with a hole in the middle.

How to Cook Them

So much for that, but since sour cream and sour milk seem to be available in many homes now doughnuts are a popular item on the cooking list.

The bath of fat must be deep enough to float the doughnuts and hot enough to brown them. As a test, cook several of the little centres in the hot fat. They should be cooked and brown in two minutes. If they should rise quickly to the top of the fat, brown on one side, be turned and browned on the other, the fat is too hot. If they remain on the bottom they will absorb it and become greasy; when using a fat thermometer, it should register 360 degrees to 375 degrees F.

Sour milk or buttermilk may be used in this recipe. Sift enough flour to measure three and one-half cups. Sift flour with three teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt, three-fourths teaspoon nutmeg and one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon. Beat two eggs until light and fluffy, gradually add one cup sugar, stirring well after each addition. Stir in two tablespoons melted shortening.

Add flour mixture alternately with one cup sour milk or buttermilk, stirring only until ingredients are well combined. Shape into a round of dough with your hands. Divide the dough into three parts and roll out, one at a time.

Put dough on a floured board, roll one-half inch thick and but with a floured doughnut cutter. Drop into the hot deep fat and cook until brown on both sides, turning them several times. Drain on unglazed paper.

Filled Doughnuts

Doughnuts made from yeast are popular too. The yeast dough can be made the evening before and allowed to rise overnight. Some of it may be used for rolls or coffee cake, if desired. Jams, marmalades and dried fruits make delicious filling and offer variety.

To make the sweet roll dough, soften two cakes of yeast in one-fourth cup lukewarm water for five minutes. Scald one cup milk and cool to lukewarm. While yeast is softening and the milk is cooling, cream one cup shortening, gradually add one-fourth cup each of sugar and honey, blending well after each addition. Add one egg at a time, using three eggs, then stir in one tablespoon of lemon juice and the grated rind of half a lemon.

Blend in the milk, the yeast, and one teaspoon salt. Gradually add sifted flour, almost two cups at a time, stirring thoroughly after each amount. Use four to five cups or until dough rolls in a ball around the mixing spoon, but sticks to the bottom of the bowl.

Turn dough onto a kneading board which has been spread with one cup of flour. Cover dough with several clean towels and let rest for 10 minutes. Knead until smooth and springy. Put into a clean greased bowl, cover and let rise overnight.

To make the doughnuts in the morning, take off part of the dough and roll on floured board to one-half inch thick. Cut into rounds with floured biscuit cutter. Place a teaspoon of jam or a pitted prune in the centre of half of the rounds. Top with the other halves and press edges firmly together. To be certain the edges stay together, dampen the edges before sealing. Place on well floured board, cover and let rise until very light. Fry in deep fat until brown.

When fat from frying the doughnuts has cooled, pour it through a fine sieve covered with cheesecloth to remove any particles. If necessary, dron several slices of potato into the hot fat to clarify it and to remove any flavors. Pour into an empty fruit tin that has been thoroughly cleaned.

The Theory of Starvation

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Professor Alston of Cambridge writes to The London Times to say that we had better not try to improve the living standards of the Asiatic world, and he tries to prove his point by a simple mathematical formula. There is only so much food in the Orient and not enough to support the population. Therefore, nature has devised the simple remedy of starvation, high infant mortality and short life. By killing off the people in large numbers nature holds the population down to the level of food production. But if we interfere with this natural and healthy satisfactory equation by letting the Orientals have more food, why then, of course, fewer of them will die and the larger population will need still more food, and if we supply it the population will grow still larger, and there will be no end to our charity short of ruin for us.

This is an interesting theory. The economists and agronomists can deal with its practical side—the possibility of increasing food production in the Orient with modern machinery and science, and the certain fact that a people's birth rate drops as its living standard increases. More important is the impractical side of the question, the moral side which, in the end, always turns out to be the most practical side.

The fundamental reason why we must work to build up the living standards of the Orient is not that we want them as markets but that it is wrong to do anything else. It is wrong for a man with more food than he can eat to stand by and refuse food to a starving neighbor. And nothing in economics or politics can possibly make it right.

I am aware that this line of reasoning has not been popular in the world of modern times. Few nations have based their policies on what is right merely because it was right. All of us have been too clever for that. We have tried to create a policy which would protect us, our safety, our purse and our comfort, whether it was right or wrong. And in our cleverness we have lost our safety, our purse, our comfort and the lives of our sons.

Now we are told by some of our hardest-headed thinkers that we simply were not clever enough. Next time we must be more clever and more ruthless. We must make sure, for example, that the Oriental death rate remains high and that the colored peoples don't get enough to eat. That and similar measures elsewhere will make us safe, prosperous and comfortable.

The answer, which such thinkers will never accept, is that no such policies will ever succeed because they are wrong; for such thinkers do not accept right and wrong as practical politics. They consider them abstract conceptions of ethics or metaphysics, good enough for cloistered maiden ladies but of no use in the world of men.

This is the true hub of the revolution now under way in the world. It is fundamentally a quarrel between those who believe in morality as the actual force as sure as gravity and those who consider it merely a passing fashion of behavior.

It is not easy to deny the theories of the so-called practical men who would condemn millions of human beings to starvation in the higher interests of civilization. They have all history to show them that mankind has never yet been able to build an ideal world, based on right; and they have the final argument that all life ends in death anyway and there is no visible sign of any order, plan, rational purpose or morality in the whole physical universe.

No, there is no visible sign but there is something infinitely more powerful—the inward and invisible conscience of the individual man who knows right from wrong more certainly than he knows black from white. Most men do what they think is right and we should have world anarchy by tomorrow morning, but so far we have been able to establish individual conduct to the world at large.

We will extend it or we will perish. We will build our civilization on the proposition that the only practical policy is the right policy or our civilization will become a system of slavery, as it almost did during the last five years. It will take a long time, no doubt, to make a decent world, but the reaction of men everywhere to the positive principle of evil which Hitler represents shows how strong are the forces of good, how great their capacity for action, when they are unloosed.

The war has proved many things but the sovereign thing is that men, when they are faced with the test, distinguish right from wrong and the majority of them will die for the first before surrendering it. Not because they know what particular plan or policy they stand for, not because they can explain clearly what they want in their lives, but simply because they know able to stop Hitler! They have a planned economy.

The Socialists and Russia

By J. H. GRAY

If any satire had deliberately set out to turn fine sentiments of the Socialist intellectuals into a mess of mince-meat it could hardly have done a more complete job of it than the Russians have done. Because this has been so, Canadian Socialists turn sadly in the other direction when Russia is quoted as an example of Socialism.

They did, that is, until just recently. The magnificent victories of the Russians on the battlefields have raised Russian prestige to heights never before known. Recognizing this, Canadian Socialists are trying to cadge whatever reflected glory they can from the Russians.

The argument being used by the C.C.F.ers in essence judges social systems by military prowess. Thus they argue that the terrific showing of the Red army is proof of the superiority of the Russian system over ours. Look what the Russians have done! They alone have been able to stop Hitler! They have a planned economy.

Such an argument is transparently fraudulent. With it, it could be proved that the German system was superior to the French social system because the Nazis defeated France, and the social and political systems of Norway, Holland, Belgium and Czechoslovakia were inferior and less desirable than the German.

This is putting it bluntly, something the C.C.F.ers never do. They beat around the bush and skate around the edges. A superlative example of their tactics will be found in a pamphlet recently written by Mr. William Irvine, one of the leaders of the C.C.F. and an Alberta leader. Here are two paragraphs from Mr. Irvine's pamphlet, "The People Must Choose":

"It is well enough to talk about planning and planned societies, but you may ask is this a practical way of life? Has it been tried before? . . . Let us look at a planned society, a society which has reached the ultimate in planning—Socialism. We are going to make a study of life in the Soviet Union for two reasons. Firstly because that country is a living example of a planned economy that has proven its mettle, and, secondly, to establish once and for all exactly what is meant by the much misused word Socialism, as it functions in its most highly embracing form and manifestations.

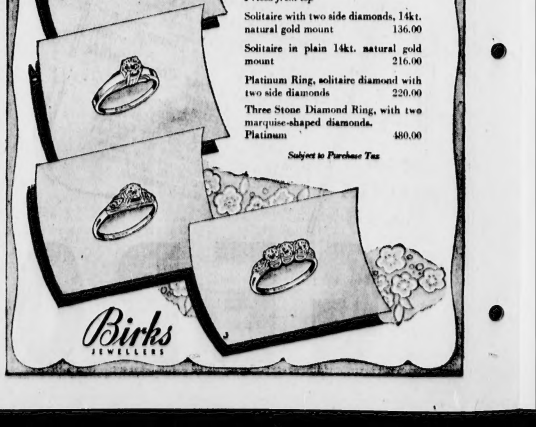

"It is not the political system of Russia however that we would suggest that our people adopt here in Canada, but rather the science of social planning that we would do well to heed and take cognizance of."

The first paragraph implies of course that Mr. Irvine is prepared to rest the case for Socialism on Russia. He will stand or fall on that issue. But in the second paragraph he tries to get out from under. He does so because he knows that the entire Russian political system would be completely unacceptable to Canadians. Yet the fact remains that one is an integral part of the other.

The Russian political system is the product of peculiar economic and social system. Without it, the Socialist experiment could not exist. If planning is to be effective, it must have enforcement. The multitude of boards which the Russians established, and which the C.C.F. would set up to carry through their master plan, must have authority. Under a completely planned economy, any interference with, or opposition to, any section or phase of the operation would bring the master-plan into jeopardy. Once the top experts have made their decision, everything must be subordinated to that end and the entire coercive power of the state must be marshaled behind the plan. Opposition must be ruthlessly suppressed, for opposition to the master-plan becomes treason to the state.

The political system is the enforcement instrument of master-planners. The Russian political system did not liquidate millions of Russians merely for the sake of killing them, it did not tranport untold millions of others to forced labor camps hundreds of miles away to show its authority. It did all these things because the plan required that they be done, just as the C.C.F. will have to resort to similar tactics if they mean business in enforcing the will of their planners upon the Canadian people.

Aussie Newsmen Arrive in City On Canada Tour

lates in Europe. "It's a long way from Hollandia to Tokyo," he observes. "The Jap will hit harder as his communication lines are shortened under assault."

Third newspaperman of the party, Mr. Dawes wears the khaki uniform of an accredited Australian war correspondent. He was present when Australians landed at Lae and Finschhafen, New Guinea, and wrested these points from the Jap Invader.

Not a pretty picture was described by Correspondent Dawes as he told of Japanese suicides in the fighting at Lae.

THEY "SAVE FACE"

Tojo's men "save face"—by blowing their heads to bits with a grenade. Some of them, for some extraordinary reason, performed this last rite at Lae after wading waist-deep into the ocean.

"It's true the Japs won't be taken prisoner," said Mr. Dawes. "I think it's because they fear losing face. A captured Japanese soldier is a man without a country, and can't go home after the war. Again, I think they are terror-stricken of the bearded Australian soldiers. They prefer death to being taken prisoner."

With the newspapermen's party are Ralph L. Harry, assistant secretary of the Australian High Commissioner's office, Ottawa, and Capt. George McCrachan and Gerald Gelder, of the Wartime Information Board, Ottawa.

CROSS-CANADA TOUR

The tour was arranged by the W.I.B. in appreciation of a similar tour undertaken in Australia last year by a party of Canadian newspapermen. It started on the Pacific coast, and worked north through the Queen Charlotte Islands and inland to Whitehorse, and thence to Edmonton. While in the city, the party is staying at the Macdonald hotel.

"We are tremendously impressed with what has been done in the north," Mr. Smith told interviewers. "The airfields, the oil installations and other large-scale projects are greatly significant for the drive to come against Japan."

"The development we have seen is vitally significant to Australia, which on the other side of the Pacific is playing a mighty part in the war against Japan. We can see the shadow of things to come when Hitler is disposed of.

AIRDROMES "MARVELOUS"

The chain of airdromes right through to Alaska is "really marvellous" in the opinion of the visiting writers. "Development of the northwest is a tribute to your government, particularly as the Northwest Staging Route was laid down long before the Alaska Highway was undertaken," said Mr. Smith.

Looking forward to seeing Australian airmen stationed in this country, the party carries messages from the home country to men training in Alberta. One is from Arthur S. Drakeford, Australian minister for air, and will be delivered at Calgary.

Doing a big job on the other side of the Pacific, Australia is looking forward to fullest co-operation with Canada in the work lying ahead.

Mr. Smith says that during the last six months, the Australian offensive against the Japs has really got going. It is limited, however, until the full Allied might can be applied.

Since the start of the war, Australia has taken $80,000 men into the army. On the basis of comparative population, this figure represents 12,000,000 men in the United States army.

ALL MANPOWER USED

Australian authorities have made the fullest use of available manpower, the visitors stated. All labor is under control of a director-general of manpower, who has authority probably wider than any other person in the country. Under his direction, luxury business has completely stopped, and civilian business has been subordinated to war industry.

Some 67 per cent of single women in Australia are in industry, and doing a big job. In addition, about 12 per cent of married women are working in industrial plants. The single women are subject to direction to employment.

A price control system, somewhat similar to the Canadian plan, is in operation "Down Under", said Mr. Smith. Since the beginning of the war, Australia's price rise has been about 20 per cent. A stabilization scheme is in operation, allowing payment of government subsidies to industries, in order to keep price levels down.

Mr. Dawes has been covering the Pacific war for the last two years for his paper. He flew from Dutch New Guinea to join the touring party as it left for Canada.

Describing the "North-South Road" running from Adelaide north through Alice Springs to Darwin, Mr. Dawes compares it in length and strategic importance to the Alaska highway. "It will probably do a lot for Australia in peacetime, just as the Alaska Highway will do for Canada."

WITNESSED CONSTRUCTION

He witnessed construction of the northern part of this road, carried out at the time the Japanese were bombing Darwin at the peak of their drive in the Southern Pacific.

Mr. Dawes also saw construction of the "East-West Road" in Australia, a war project running from the east coast to the north-south highway, and the "Bulldog Road" in New Guinea.

All three of these roads are linked with the story of gold discoveries in Australia and New Guinea. The "Bulldog Road" takes its name from "bulldog" river boats which plied up and down rivers years ago, carrying supplies to gold miners.

Mr. Whitington has completed a book, "Pacific Sideshow", to be published in the Old Country. It reviews political and military developments in the Southwest Pacific since Pearl Harbor.

AUSTRALIA "INVADED"

He pointed out that when the Japs invaded Papua in New Guinea, they invaded Australia. "Papua is Australian territory, and Australia was invaded just as much as Canada would be invaded, if hostile armies took over the Yukon Territory or the North West Territories."

The Australian people felt face to face with the invader when Papua was overrun, said Mr. Whitington.

He said the Japanese forces had not suffered a defeat in their campaign until "Aussie" forces halted them at Milne Bay and Kokola, the latter only 40 miles from Port Moresby.

"If they had taken Moresby, they would have had the key to Australia. At that time, Darwin, on our northwest coast, was being bombed almost constantly, and Japanese submarines were operating off the coast, even shelling suburbs of Sydney," he said.

Calling attention to the part the Royal Australian Navy is playing in the war, Mr. Whitington said his country's naval vessels have fought in almost every theatre of war.

Three modern cruisers, H.M.A.S. Sydney, H.M.A.S. Perth, and H.M.A.S. Canberra, have been sunk in engagements, and many corvettes and destroyers have been lost, on the high seas and in the Mediterranean.

PLANES SUPPORT YANKS

Australian naval craft supported American landings in New Britain, the Solomon Islands, and the Admiralty Islands, while the Royal Australian Air Force is credited with ridding the southern ocean of Jap troop barges, it was stated.

The party was entertained at a dinner Thursday night given by Maj.-Gen. W. W. Foster, C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., special commissioner for defence projects in northwest Canada. On Friday noon, the visitors were honored at a joint luncheon arranged by the province of Alberta, Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, and the Men's Canadian Club, and left for Calgary later in the afternoon on their way east.

"This guy says his business has picked up 100 per cent since he started to specialize!"

"We are fighting with you!"

To many another Canadian worker on farm or in factory, and to many more thousands overseas, this message from 18,000 men and women of the Pacific Coast fishing industry will bring heartening cheer.

Yes, they are fighting with you. From British Columbia alone nearly eight million cases of canned salmon and herring have been shipped to Britain during the past three years . . . the mightiest export of seafood ever to leave Canada's shores!

Aussie War Brides Stowaway to U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(AP)—Two Australian war brides who stowed away to follow their American husbands to the United States, ran into trouble with immigration authorities, yesterday were granted continuances of their cases until Saturday, when they will make their pleas on charges of illegal entry. Their main worry appeared to be that "we'll disgrace our families" left behind in Australia. To prevent that they refused to give out their Sydney addresses or their maiden names, or to be specific about their husbands' whereabouts.

Grant Radio Time For Sask. Election

REGINA, May 19—(CP)—Malcolm Neill, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation station relations division, announced here yesterday that six hours will be devoted to political broadcasts for the June 15 Saskatchewan general election. The time will be divided equally among the Liberal, Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. parties.

Banking Plan Is Discounted As Impossible

By B. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, May 19.—To change the Bank Act to compel the banks to hold 100 per cent reserves instead of the present legal 5 per cent limit would have the effect of "passing legislation for the conduct of banking which would make impossible the conduct of banking." This was Graham F. Towers' reply to A. G. Slaght's suggestion that the government borrow its requirements from the Bank of Canada on a debt-free basis. In practice, the banks hold 10 per cent reserves.

The House Banking and Commerce Committee heard Mr. Slaght cross-examine the governor of the Bank of Canada closely on bank profits and on the debt-free money idea. When Mr. Slaght included the $40,000,000 in chartered bank notes still in circulation as an asset of the banks, Mr. Towers said, "No, that is a liability."

Mr. Slaght: "How do you make that out?"

Mr. Towers: "The man who has a bank note has a claim on the bank."

Mr. Slaght pulled a $10 bill out of his pocket and waved it in the air.

W. H. Moore (Lib., Ont.), chairman of the committee: "Will you file that?" Amid laughter, Mr. Slaght replied he did not want to file any liabilities with the committee, if Mr. Towers regarded a bank note as a liability. Mr. Towers said if Mr. Slaght did not regard a bank note as a bank liability, it was impossible to go on and discuss broader aspects of banking.

Members of the committee and a crowd of spectators including M.P.'s, senators and bank officials listened intently to the argument between Slaght and Towers, which grew sharp at times.

MUCH HYPOTHETICAL

Much of it was in the realm of hypothesis. When Mr. Slaght took as an example a bank with $100,000 capital making loans to 10 customers of $100,000 each, he argued it could not meet the claims on its of $1,000,000. Mr. Towers said Mr. Slaght overlooked the fact the bank could realize on the security of the loans it had made. Mr. Slaght's bank was one that "never was on our hands".

Mr. Moore: "Let us have practical illustrations."

Mr. Slaght argued that if the hypothetical bank loaned $1,000,000 at six per cent it would be making $60,000 on its capital of $100,000.

"No," said Mr. Towers, "such a bank does not exist and could not exist." He said Mr. Slaght's imaginary bank might have $300,000 out on loans at most, and some funds invested in securities and other funds out in bank notes. The average earnings would be around three per cent, but this would be subject to operating expenses would have to be deducted.

To a question from Norman Jacques (C.C.F., Wetaskiwin) Mr. Towers said Mr. Jaques' difficulty was that he thought banks could create the means of making payments to customers, and that was not the case. Mr. Jaques said the banks loaned more money than there was in existence, which might lead to bank failures. Not if they were solvent, said Mr. Towers, and only if a panic developed.

SAYS BANK OF CANADA WOULD AID IN PANIC

OTTAWA, May 19 — (CP) — Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, said yesterday before the Commons Banking and Commerce Committee that if a bank panic developed the chartered banks could obtain the assistance they needed from the Bank of Canada in tiding them over.

Arthur Slaght (L., Parry Sound) said that meant the taxpayers' money would be used to support the banks.

Mr. Towers: "On the contrary, it would be a very profitable operation for both the Bank of Canada ad the taxpayer. Mind you, I don't want it to happen."

The committee continued examination of the power of banks to issue credit.

ASKS ABOUT LOANING

R. T. Graham (L., Swift Current) asked if the loaning capacity of banks would be impaired if the suggestion of G. G. McGeer (L., Vancouver-Burrard) that the government conscript savings for its financial needs were carried out.

Mr. Towers said that if there was a loss of confidence in the banks their loaning capacity would be impaired.

"If one bank lost the confidence of its depositors it would no longer be in the position of the others and would have to reduce the ratio between loans and capital?" asked Mr. Graham.

"Yes," said Mr. Towers.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

THIS year's setup of the Edmonton Senior Baseball League should mean good ball for Renfrew Park patrons. With seven of last season's championship squad on the roster, Wayne Adams' Yanks do not have to start from scratch, while Chuck Henderson's Dodgers look decidedly stronger than their predecessors and Chuck will make them hustle.

And right now you can tick off at least a few wins for the Arrows, as Maurice Hawkey will be back tossing hooks for Paul Martell's club. Bob Sawyer's U.S. Signals still have to make their way in the Edmonton circuit, but fans will have a chance to give them the once over as they get form in the opener against Yanks on Sunday.

Aircraft Repair at the moment is also an unknown quantity, but the inclusion of Jim Kelly, champion batsman last year assures the team of at least one .300 hitter. James did a .365 clouting job in '43, and has always been dangerous with the willow wand, his usual pace being well over the .300 mark.

NEW INFIELD FOR YANKS

JUST how the Yanks will compare with last season's champs is the moot question right now, but it soon will be answered at least in part. Wayne Adams will have on parade Sunday afternoon a brand new infield, but it is not hard to recall the smooth-working quartet of John Gullekson, Frank Wrigglesworth, Harley Miller and Harry Baldwin.

It seems generally agreed that Ralph Schumacher, who handles the keystone sack is the smoothie of the 44 squad. Ralph, who is on the Boston Red Sox list, is fast in addition to being a nice ball handler. Manuel Dorsky and Gino Valenti back in the outfield give the Yanks good defensive as well as offensive strength.

Burchfield, the new third-baseman is reputed to be the fastest man on the club, but if his travelling time is any less than either Dorsky or Valenti, that'll be something too. Burchfield and Pete Myers are the only two left-handed batters with the Yanks.

HERE AND THERE . . .

WHEN Darby Melnick of Calgary looked in Wednesday after doing a little checking on the local reaction to a visit of Jim Londos following the latter's Calgary show in June, he mentioned Tony (Two-Ton) Galento would be refereeing an engagement in the Foothills city in the near future. Darby also volunteered that The Angel (Maurice Tillet) would be "rassling" in Calgary soon too.

Melnick handled Al Lust prior to the Al's enlistment in the Army. Lust, it will be recalled, floored Maxie Berger in a bout in Calgary shortly before he was beaten by Sgt. Dave Castilloux, R.C.A.F., in the Arena here in January, '43. Castilloux also secured a decision over Lust in Montreal.

U.S. Signals will be having their final workout prior to Sunday's game at Renfrew Park tonight. The Arrows have called a practice for Sunday morning at the Stadium diamond.

Royal Bowlers To Open Season Next Wednesday

The Royal club's 1944 lawn bowling season will be officially opened at the greens located in the Parliament buildings grounds on Wednesday, May 24th with Premier E. C. Manning and Mrs. Manning taking part in the opening ceremonies.

All members of both ladies' and men's clubs are expected to be present along with their friends, and visitors from other clubs all of whom are cordially invited to be present.

After the opening ceremonies an open mixed competition will be held and midday in the afternoon an interval will be allowed for lunch. All of those desirous of playing are requested to be present at the greens and have their names registered not later than 1:45 p.m. when rinks will be drawn from the individual entries received.

All members of the men's club are expected to be present at the green on Friday evening, May 26th, at 7:25 p.m. when the annual presidential-vice president match will be played. The first jitney games of the season will be played on Saturday evening, May 27th at 7:30.

New members and prospective members are invited to take part in these games.

Yanks, 1943 Champions to Play U.S. Signals at Renfrew Park

Senior Baseball Season Opens Sunday

Yanks Name Wayne Adams As Pitcher

WITH the U.S. Signals, new entry in the local five-club circuit and Yanks, last year's champions supplying the attraction, the current senior baseball season will open at Renfrew Park on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Wayne Adams has been named as starting pitcher for the Yanks, with Bill Goodrich doing the receiving. Choice for mound duty for Signals lies between Helmuth Brown and Marshall Hancock, while Wesley Reed will be the catcher.

Arrows and Dodgers, rivals for many years are scheduled to play on Tuesday, while Aircraft Repair will make their debut against the Yanks next Thursday. Arrows and Signals are slated to meet Saturday week.

Edmonton Senior Baseball League schedule this season calls for a total of 50 games, four to be played each week, Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays are regular game days.

Although seven of this year's edition of the Yanks, coached by Sgt. Wayne Adams are holdovers from last season's club, the 1943 champions have an entirely new infield. Three of the pitching staff and three of the four outfielders are repeaters. Al Goodrich, who shared backstop duties with Tony Lollo a year ago, is expected to do most of the receiving.

Of the chuckers for the Yanks, Adams, Johnny Gray and Waller Nelson saw service with the team in '43. Forest Hunter did very effective work for the Dodgers last season and Al Walker, a newcomer, is highly regarded.

"Blossom" Young will look after the catching along with Al Goodrich.

The infield consists of Pete Myers, successor to John Gullek-son at first and who has been assigned the cleanup position. Pete is a long distance hitter, bats left and has played considerable pro ball.

At second is Ralph Schumacher, leadoff man in the batting order and coming from Lynnville, Ind. He bats from the right side and is a smart fielder.

C. M. Burchfield, third baseman is from Bonham, Texas. He is fast, is a nice hitter, bats second and is a left hand hitter.

Doug Rauch, who will take the place vacated by Harley Miller at short is from Amarillo, Texas. He will bat in fifth position and is a right hand hitter.

Al Loconto, the new recruit for the outfield is from Worcester, Mass., and he bats seventh on the list.

Manuel Dorsky, who looked after the left garden for the Yanks last season will be back in his accustomed spot. Dorsky, it will be recalled batted .333 during the regular schedule a year ago, ranking next to Harry Baldwin. He bats from the right side, and will be sixth on the list. His home city is Birmingham, Ala.

Gino Valenti, fleet centre fielder for the Yanks in '43 will be there again this season. Valenti's best hitting last year was during the playoffs. He is a right hander and will bat third. Gino is from San Francisco.

Bill Dunn, also with last year's champions is the fourth outfielder. He usually played right.

Bill Myers, Bob Slagle and Joe Haligowski are the utility infielders with the club.

The U.S. Signals squad will be an entirely new team, so far as Edmonton is concerned. The boys are being coached by Bob Sawyer, formerly with Syracuse of the International League. Bob is a left-handed pitcher, but expects to be at first base for Sunday's game, leaving the mound work to Helmuth Brown and Marshall Hancock.

Signals' catching will be done by Wesley Reed, who has minor league experience and is on the St. Louis Cards' list.

The team's second sacker is Laurel Garrett and Lester Nelson will be in charge at the difficult corner. Henry Dombroski is the shortstop.

Striking

Pharmacist mate Shirley Ruth Paine, WAVE attached to Naval Hospital, San Diego, has pitched two no-hit, no-run softball games.

Lovers Lass Wins Feature Race

CALGARY, May 19.—(CP)—Lovers Lass, five year old daughter of Tedsam and Mintairy, won the Eventide purse, fifth and feature race, at Victoria Park here Thursday for owner Carlos, well known Winnipeg band leader.

Jockey Joe Braddish took the mare to the front as the field of seven broke from the Cowell gate and she stayed throughout. Getwise was second and Winnamucca third.

Black Memory, Ned Northwood's mare made it two straight at the meeting by winning the seventh race.

The daily double, Cave Boy coupled with Wilson's Hominy, returned $265.75.

There was one claim during the program, H. J. Fisher of Stevenson, B.C., taking Ted's Fanny, winner of the sixth race from Mrs. J. Rombough, of Calgary, for $700.

Cleo Shans Wins

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—Cleo Shans, Los Angeles lightweight, pounded out an eight-round decision over Led Dulmaine of Worcester, Mass., in the headline bout last night of an outdoor fight show at Fort Hamilton military base. Shans weighed 134 and Dulmaine 135.

Club Remindful of Cards

Anybody Playing for Fitz Must Give Best—or Else

Second of a series

By FRED FITZSIMMONS
Manager of Phillies

NEW YORK, May 19.—It is very gratifying to hear that the Phillies are the talk of the National League. The club is high on itself. It has the spirit of a college football team.

The Phillies are in the employ of a splendid organization. Anybody on a club managed by me must give his best—or else. I feel that the boys enjoy playing for me, but this would be a ustling outfit regardless of the guiding hand. The Phillies fight until the last man is out. They don't know when to quit. It pleases me to be told and to read that their dash and fire is remindful of the heads-up Cardinals.

Speaking of the Cardinals, the Phillies are not conceding them or any other club the pennant. We are off pretty well and hope to maintain the pace.

We may lose shortstop Ray Hamrick to the Army any day. Hamrick is a pippin, but we have replacements in Glen Stewart, who got in 110 games with us last season, and Charley Letchas, who was slick in the field for Toronto.

PITCHER SCHANZ IS FIND

We have superlative pitching in the left-handers, Ken Raffensburger and Al Gerbenauer, and the right-handers, Charley Schanz, Bill Lee and Kewpie Barrett. Dale Mathewson, Barney Mussill and John Donahue are relief workers, and Old Man Fitzsimmons is still available, you know.

The willowy Raffensberger has found himself following whirls with the Cardinals and Cubs. Schanz, 6-3½, 205, is one of the finds of the year. This big youngster behind glasses—Charley Chan, they call him—led the Pacific Coast League in strike-outs, complete games and innings pitched.

Bob Finley, who broke in with us a year ago, and Andy Seminick, up from Knoxville, give us all the catching we need.

Tony Lupien, Moon Mullen, Hamrick and Ted Cieslak, who brings memories of Pepper Martin, compose an exceptional infield. Mullen, a University of Oregon product who spent last summer with Seattle, covers a wide range.

In my humble opinion, Jimmy Wasdell, Buster Adams, Ron Northey and Coaker Triplett give the Phillies as capable an outfield as there is in the game today. Their hitting power is tremendous, and the versatile Wasdell is also protection at first base.

Attendance demonstrated that the people of Philadelphia like the Phillies and the new setup. General Manager Herb Pennock anticipates a good year, and it is a pleasure to work with him. President Bob Carpenter is just a private in the Army, which is the way he wanted it.

I am confident the Phillies will at least prove the National League's class of the east, and well give them all a real run for the Mullen, a University of Oregon money.

Fred Fitzsimmons . . . close!

Jap Who Posed As Chinese Gets Year in Prison

VANCOUVER, May 19.—(CP)—Shigeo Kinoshita, 33, Japanese who masqueraded for two years as a Chinese truck driver, was sentenced to 12 months in jail when he pleaded guilty in police court yesterday to three charges of violating wartime regulations.

He was sentenced to 12 months on each of two convictions of failing to leave the protected area of Vancouver after February, 1942, and of having unlawfully entered a protected area. On a third conviction of having in his possession a registration card not his own, he was fined $100 or three months in jail. Sentences are concurrent.

This is the first case of its kind since the B.C. coast Japanese were transferred to the interior two years ago.

Outstanding Third Baseman

Don Savage Carrying On New York Yankee Tradition

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—He's physically unfit for the armed forces and he's playing a new position in his first major league season, but Don Savage of the New York Yankees already is carrying on the club's tradition of outstanding third basemen.

Savage, last year a shortstop with Newark Bears, was transplanted by Manager Joe McCarthy this spring and right away the rookie was at home.

Before yesterday's contest with the Chicago White Sox, Savage had a batting average of .329, had driven in 14 runs and won two games with homerun smashes. He's in the cleanup batting slot when the opposition starts a southpaw pitcher.

The 25-year-old infielder has made only three errors this season as the successor to Lyn Lary, Joe Sewell, Red Rolfe and Bill Johnson at the hot corner. All four came to the Yankees as shortstops and were remodelled into third basemen as was Savage.

McCarthy's newest pride and joy began his Yankee farm career in 1938. He landed with Newark in 1943, and when Johnson—who won the American League's rookie-of-the-year award in his only term with the Yankees—joined the armed services last winter, Savage moved up.

The illness which keeps him out of the service has been diagnosed as diabetes and Savage still takes injections to combat the malady. In addition, he has a "football knee".

Pats' Two Clubs To Play Tonight

The Army and Navy Pats' "A" and "B" teams will meet tonight in a practice game to be played at the Victoria high school grounds starting a 7:30 o'clock. The "B" team will be entered in the intermediate section of the City Girls' Fastball League when the present circuit is divided into two sections. Any players wishing a tryout with this team will be welcomed tonight.

Netherlands Girl Lowers Own Mark

LONDON, May 19.—(CP)—Mrs. Fanny E. Blankers, Netherlands athlete, has lowered her own world's record for the 100-yard dash from 11 seconds to 10.8 at an Amsterdam track meet, it was reported from occupied Holland Thursday. She set the previous mark in 1938 while running under her maiden name of Koen.

Meadows Winner To Coast Jockey

SAN MATEO, Calif., May 19.—(AP)—Nipping the pace setter in a late stretch drive, Downey Pillow won the feature race at Bay Meadows Thursday by a head, going the one mile in 1:42 4-5. Hedley Woodhouse, Vancouver, B.C., was up on the winner, which paid $7.40, $4.20 and $2.80.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The royal and ancient game of golf will be given two contrasting shots in the arm when the war is over and a new golden era of sports is ushered in, according to Fred Corcoran, tournament manager of the Professional Golfers' Association.

Those contrasting stimulants are: (1) A return to knickers, instead of slacks, for all top flight pros since golf has lost its "sox appeal"; and (2) Night tournaments under arc lights.

Corcoran and the fellow brass hats of the P.G.A. decry the lack of distinguishing color in current golf raiment. They complain that the customers in P.G.A. tournaments can not be distinguished from the gallery because they wear slacks and "any other old duds" quickly available. If they sported plus fours, they would look more athletic and not have to fight their way through galleries attired in slacks.

PERMIT MORE FREEDOM

CORCORAN says: "The knickers not only permit greater freedom of movement, meanwhile allowing duffers to watch properly their foot positions; but they make older golfers look and feel a lot younger. Gene Sarazen and MacDonald Smith are the only name golfers who now wear knickers; but they are an important tie between the plus four past of colorful players and the unfortunately slack present."

Objections to knickers for golfers have been (1 The necessity of purchasing and wearing long woolen socks, and (2) The menace of mosquitoes to stockinged legs in swampy regions.

Corcoran says, "There will be plenty of golf socks available, cheaply, when the war is over. Moreover, mosquitoes have been eliminated from most courses by oil treatments of course ponds, and by recently prepared powders for service use in jungle warefare that turn away all models of insects."

CORCORAN and his P.G.A. fellows crave colorful plus fours, although the association's winter season of 12 tourneys played to more than 100,000 spectators; and although the scheduled 12 summer tourneys are expected to attract more than 250,000—an all time record.

Night golf will feature the decade following the war, according to Corcoran, who points out that a certain nationally known electrical manufacturing firm—just before Pearl Harbor—was ready to light fairways and greens of any golf course at a reasonable cost.

Virtually all other spectator sports have gone, or are going, under the lights, says Corcoran—boxing, hockey, baseball and dog racing. He emphasizes that modern driving ranges, along the highways, depend almost entirely upon their night trade; and that the legions of modern golf fans and addicts are recruited largely from among the nation's workers, who are too busy to watch or play in the day time.

Corcoran concludes: "The golden era of post-war golf will be featured by a return to plus fours and a shift to night time play."

McMullen Cup Play to Resume Sunday Morning

Games in the McMullen cup inter-club golf play, will be held on Sunday morning with two of the four city clubs taking part.

For Sunday's play, Country Club and Highlands "A" teams will meet at the Highlands and the "B" squads will tangle at the Country Club. Mayfair and Municipal teams were to have met, but Robertson cup play at Mayfair is expected to force a postponement of their clash.

Following are the lineups for Sunday:

Gentry Shuts Out Athletics And Bats in Only Run of Tilt

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—(AP)—Rufe Gentry pitched a shutout ball and batted across the only run as Detroit Tigers made it two in a row over the Philadelphia Athletics with a 1-0 American League victory before a ladies' day crowd of 10,621 Thursday.

The game was a heart-breaker for Don Black, the A's pitcher, who allowed only three hits while Gentry gave up nine.

Charlie Hostetler singled to open the eighth, went to second on Paul Richards' sacrifice, and scored on Gentry's single.

Seven double plays were made, four by the A's and three by the Tigers.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO, May 18.—(CP)—To race or not to race their utmost, that's the question racing owners of horse hopefuls for the annual King's Plate classic in Toronto when they send their entries to the post for the Plate trials, an innovation in the royal platter derby this year.

Previously the youngsters went into the plate running with only track workouts under their belt. But this year they will contend in a special pre-running for a $2,500 purse. Where the rub comes, though, is the fact that the winning horse will pick up a five-pound handicap for the regular Plate running, and jeopardize its chance to cop the $10,000 prize money.

The owners reportedly like the idea of the trial, to give them an idea how the bets should be placed, but they definitely don't like that five-pound handicap.

Chances are, the only owners giving the all-out sign to their jockeys will be those whose steeds have only an outside chance in the King's Plate fixture.

Rhythm rascal:

Dave (Regina Leader-Post) Drysburgh tells a belated story of yesteryeasons's Memorial Cup. Seems a devoted Chicago fan turned up at the stadium for one of the games, bring a steel triangle and bar to the astonishment of his neighbors. The mystery was solved in the second intermission, though, when "deep in the heart of Texas" was played, and our friend used the triangle for the accompaniment, then settled back for the game.

Incidentally:

Bobby Docherty, conqueror of Baby Yack in the 1936 Olympic trials, has returned to his home in Toronto after four years overseas. Bobby and his two elder brothers, Harry and Jack, (who was killed in Italy) enlisted early in the war. Bobby won the Canadian Army and British Army featherweight titles before he went to Sicily and Italy for more important business and got the shrapnel wound that sent him home.

They've organized a 224-team juvenile and midget lacrosse league in Winnipeg, and the boys are due to swing into action any day now. The league has picked up a flock of slicks and balls, and 20 dozen more sticks are on the way from Vancouver. . . . Death of Babe Seibert's father, Oliver Seibert, leaves only five of the famous Seibert family hockey team living. The family helped put Kitchener, Ont., on the hockey map back in the days when the city labored under the "Berlin" Moniker.

District News in Brief

Convict Farmers On Fire Charges

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE — Three farmers were convicted, before the police magistrate of allowing brush fires to get out of control and were fined. Miss Florence Strong, treasurer of the Red Cross branch, reports $1,807.35 collected in the recent drive. F. W. Benum of the Dominion meteorological service, Lethbridge, has been in town looking for a site for a meteorological station here, and for girls to staff it. There will be 24-hour service, needing four girls.

Word has been received from Vancouver of the death of Mrs. Anna Minta McArthur. She was 74 years old. Mrs. McArthur had been visiting relatives at the coast and was on her way to the station to return to Rocky Mountain House when she was injured in a fall. She died a week later. She is survived by three children, Mrs. Ralph Sinclair, Rock Mountain House; Mrs. W. A. McCaffery, Vancouver; and Dr. W. A. McArthur, Santa Barbara, Calif.

Mrs. John Hartig died Sunday, after a short illness. She was 74 years old. Born in Belgium, she came to Canada with her family after the last war. They settled in Alix. Ten years ago they moved to Rocky Mountain House. She is survived by her husband, one son and a daughter, Mrs. George Hoyer, all of this community. E. J. Clarke, of the Dovercourt district, died on Sunday. He was 85 years old and had farmed here for the last 30 years. He is survived by one son Earl, in Winnipeg, and one daughter in London, Ont. The Rev. R. K. Peck officiated at the funeral. Thomas Francis Darby died Sunday evening at his home here. He was 58 years old. Born in Durham, Ont., he came west in Coronation in 1911 and married Miss Lily Studen of Oshawa, Ont. They moved to Fleet and farmed there until 1923, when Mr. Darby joined the C.P.R. and came to Rocky Mountain House. He is survived by his wife and three daughters, Mrs. W. Findlater, Mrs. Walter Martz, and Mrs. Arlan Park, all of Rocky Mountain House.

Wage Increases For City Police Gain Approval

Subject to ratification by the city council agreement has been reached between the Edmonton Police Association and the city commissioners of wage increases and working conditions for 1944, it was announced Friday by City Commissioner R. J. Gibb and police association officials.

The association has agreed to accept the wage increases offered by the city council, and agreement was reached with the commissioners on several matters not contained in the council's offer. The commissioners will recommend acceptance of these at the next meeting of the city council.

Under the agreement reached ranks including first-class constable and higher will receive a monthly increase of $20 retroactive to Jan. 1. This will replace the present $8.65 cost-of-living bonus now being paid. Ranks below that of first-class constable will receive a monthly increase of $18.50, also retroactive to Jan. 1. This increase replaces the $8.65 cost of living bonus.

In addition to the wage increases it was decided to recommend that all ranks with three years service be granted three weeks holiday with pay. This recommendation is being made because police officers have to work on all statutory holidays.

It was decided also to recommend that amounts collected as court fees be turned over to the police pension fund. This is estimated to amount to $2,000 annually. Some other minor matters were agreed to also.

GET INTO LINE

The increase granted to first class constables and higher ranks bring salaries paid in Edmonton into line with other western cities. The increase will give a first class constable $170 monthly, while the average in western Canada for this rank is $172.75.

The following are the monthly salaries of western cities: Calgary, $168.50; Saskatoon, $167; Winnipeg, $171; Vancouver, $177, and Regina, $180.

Negotiations with the Fire Fighters' Union will be started next week.

Attacks Usury

A. V. Bourcier, Social Credit member of the Legislature for Lac Ste. Anne who scored the usury system in an address here Thursday night.

Flays Activities Of Usury System

The usury system in use today is anti-Christian and anti-democratic, A. V. Bourcier, Social Credit M.L.A. for Lac Ste. Anne, told listeners Thursday night at a meeting of East Edmonton Associated Social Credit groups, held at 9974 Jasper avenue.

Describing the system of usury from early times to the present, Mr. Bourcier said it is now pyramiding debt to the point where it is impossible to obey the Scriptural direction "Owe no man anything."

The speaker took excerpts from a recent speech in the House of Commons by Hon. J. L. Ilsley, minister of finance, dealing with amendments to the Bank Act, to prove the correctness of Social Credit contentions.

He said the address proved that the chartered banks create credit with a fountain pen, and that they can loan up to 20 times the amount of their cash reserves, as Social Creditors have stated.

Second speaker was Frank Luck, who dealt briefly with "Post-War Reconstruction." Miss Viola Fisher sang two solos.

The Rev. F. W. Williams, association president, was in the chair.

Farmer Acquitted In Police Court

Arne Nassel, Spruce Grove, was found not guilty in police court on Thursday by Magistrate A. L. Miller, K.C., on a charge of dangerous driving. He told the court he injured his side the day prior to the accident which led to his appearing on the charge, and that while backing his car from a parking space a sudden pain started in his side which caused him to run one wheel of his car onto a sidewalk. A doctor's examination later disclosed that some of his ribs were broken loose. The accused told the court he was still strapped up and receiving medical care.

Little Hope of Easing Shortage Rural Doctors

Shortage of doctors in Alberta may receive but slight relief under the proposed Dominion plan to supply army medical practitioners to rural areas now without medical services, it was indicated Friday by Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health.

Just back from a trip to Ottawa, he conferred with authorities on details of the plan.

It is estimated the plan will cost a municipality about $8,000 a year, said Dr. Cross. This included the cost of a car, provision of a doctor's office, and payment of his salary, to be the equivalent of an army major's pay ($7.50 a day), plus the usual allowances for a wife and family.

If a municipality is willing to undertake the cost of this plan, the province will see to it that the necessary provincial guarantee is provided to the Dominion, and the minister of national defence will then look around for a doctor to post to the municipality. Dr. Cross explained. "In my opinion, there will be few municipalities which will take up the plan, in view of the cost," he added.

During the Ottawa trip, Dr. Cross also discussed the matter of obtaining a radiologist to become provincial director of cancer services. The Dominion has agreed to try and find a suitably qualified doctor now in the armed services, to take over the post, vacated since the death of Dr. G. H. Malcolmson some time ago. In the meantime, Dr. Richard Proctor has been acting director of cancer services.

CPA Employees Aid Victory Loan

Employees of Canadian Pacific Air Lines, Western Lines, subscribed a total of $96,200 in the Sixth Victory Loan campaign, exceeding their quota by more than $6,000, it was announced Friday by G. W. G. McConachie, general manager, western lines.

A total of 911 employees subscribed to the loan and 107 per cent of the quota was attained. Percentage of employees subscribing was 89.5 per cent.

A feature of the campaign was the fact that nine out of twelve departments exceeded their quota, the highest being 190 per cent. Mr. McConachie said he was proud of the record of employees on western lines, which covers the territory from Fort William to Victoria, and stated that returns were still coming in from outlying areas in the north.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Sir Ernest MacMillan said here that since the war there has been an increased interest in music in Canada. Have you noticed any change in musical interest?

THE ANSWERS

BARBARA NEWNHAM, stenographer: I suppose that in time of war people turn from their troubles and seek an escape in music. However, I don't think the increased interest is temporary or merely a result of the war. After all, Canada is an ever-growing country and all phases of her culture are rapidly and naturally developing.

MRS. R. A. IRWIN, stenographer: It seems to me that there has been more interest in music, especially amateur contests, since the war. I guess that has been due to an interest in providing more entertainment for servicemen and war workers. In any event, I think the was has definitely accelerated the importance of music in our lives.

BETTY BOON, Red Cross worker: I haven't noticed any change so far as my own interest is concerned because I have always been interested in music and my friends generally are too. I do, however, think that there has been an increased interest in sentimental songs, especially when Frank Sinatra or Bing Crosby "give out."

A special general meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association will be held in the club room Sunday, May 21, at 2:30 p.m. Important matters are to be dealt with.

Railroad freight offices, and wholesale and retail business firms in the city will be closed Wednesday in honor of Empire Day, according to information received on Friday by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

Air Cadets of Canada No. 12, Edmonton Squadron, will parade as follows: Sunday, 14:00 hours, Market Square, Squadrons 1 and 2, manning flight and band, church parade. Monday, 1930 hours, drill hall, No. 4 I.T.S., Squadrons 1 and 2, manning flight and band.

Sight Playing Is Commended At Music Fest

Max Pirani, Vancouver, adjudicator of the 37th annual Alberta Musical Festival, expressed deep regret that contestants in three classes, baritone solo, and two violoncello solo classes, did not appear for their contests at the Friday morning competitions in McDougall United Church.

The adjudicator gave Joyce Rainsforth 79 marks, first place, in sight playing; junior piano for children under 16 years. Second place went to Doreen Hughes with 77 points. Mr. Pirani remonded the girls to watch their memory work.

In the class for sight playing, open piano, Lila Hamilton gained 83 marks. Mr. Pirani said she gave a nice performance.

Norma Madill, contralto soloist won 169 marks for her two songs. She was the only entry in this class.

To Ruth C. Drew, Kitscoty, Mr. Pirani said "you have a good voice and gave a nice presentation". A. Fiona Anderson was second with 150 marks.

The three contestants in Bach piano class for under 18 years received high marks. Margaret Ann Brine was first with 88; Margaret Sullivan, second with 85, and Morris Slutsky received 80. All had a nice tone, played with delicacy, and were accurate in their presentation. "This was really a charming class", Mr. Pirani said.

The festival will be concluded Saturday evening with a concert and presentation of trophies.

2 Theft Reports Are Investigated

City police were investigating Friday reports of thefts of tools from a shed and a three-wheel motorized chair from a garage.

A steel plane, a small jack plane, 11 blades for a plane and a file, were stolen from the shed at the rear of his home during Wednesday night, John Murray, 10159 104 street, reported.

The motorized chair, owned by Ray Fenwick, 11433 91 street, and removed from his garage sometime Wednesday night, was said to be equipped with two motorcycle tires on the rear, and a "doughnut" wheel in front.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

It Is Bride's Duty To Go With Her Husband

Nothing Man Resents More Than Mother-in-Law Who Steps in and Tries to Run His Affairs and That of His Family

DEAR MISS DIX: I am an army wife of 19. Have been married just two months. My husband is in the ground crew of the air force and has been told that he will be kept at the camp where he now is for the duration. He is begging me to come to him and make a home for him. He can make sure of an apartment for us to live in and his hours are such that we can be much together.

My problem is that I am living with my family and I have never been allowed to go any place away from home without my mother, so naturally my parents are very much opposed to the idea of my going so far away from them. What shall I do? If I go to my husband, my mother's heart will be broken. If I don't go, my husband is going to feel hurt. I am nearly crazy trying to decide what I should do.

TROUBLED BRIDE.

ANSWER: There isn't any problem about what you should do. The right thing to do is as plain as the nose on your face. You should go to your husband. When you got married you swore at the altar to forsake all others and cleave to him, and you will be making a pretty bad start as a wife if you renege on that oath inside of two months and let Mother keep you tied to her apron strings.

It is perfect nonsense for you to say that if you go to live with your husband it will break your mother's heart. She doesn't love you a bit better than every other mother loves her daughter, and you have never heard of a single one of them dying of a broken heart, or making themselves miserable because their Evelyns or Hadles or Marys have married and gone to make a new life and a new home with their husbands.

In spite of your mother making such a to-do over the matter, she is showing herself very selfish and lacking in regard for your happiness by making you feel like a criminal in leaving her. She is evidently one of the possessive mothers who wreck their children's marriages and break up their homes by trying to always be first in their affections and separate them from those to whom they are married.

Be sure of this—that the decision you make now is crucial. If you show your husband that you prefer your mother to him and that she is going to be the dominant influence in your life, you will lose him. There is nothing that a man resents so much as a mother-in-law who runs him and his family.

TROUBLES

DEAR MISS DIX: If any man thinks he has trouble, he should have to wait on customers with all their red, blue, green, brown, spare, sugar and kerosene stamps, then have to deal with the wolverines who come in with the express purpose of making passes at me. When I go home I have nightmares in which I see all of these ration stamps and wolverines and it is about driving me crazy. Please tell me what to do. DAVID.

ANSWER: Well, David, I agree with you that the ration stamps take most of the pleasure out of life for all of us, and it must be worse for a lad who is such a hot shot among the ladies. But I don't know what course to recommend unless it is to make yourself less fascinating. Or maybe a mask would help.

YOUNG PROBLEMS

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 16. My aweetheart is in the Navy and when he comes home on furlough he wants to marry him. I think I love him and would like to marry him, but he may go to war and never come back and then I would be a young widow. Or he might come back a helpless cripple. What should I do?

IN DOUBT.

ANSWER: At 16 you shouldn't marry anybody because you are too young. You don't know your own mind and are in no way fitted to take upon yourself the responsibilities of marriage. Be the boy that you will wait for him until the duration. By then you will know what you want.

Nearly all of these young wartime marriages are going to end in divorce.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The word gradually should be used more often by all individuals having to do with children. For gradually is an important word which expresses an important attitude. It expresses a parent's willingness to allow change to come about slowly instead of rapidly.

To parents who want to right a situation at "one fell swoop" instead of little by little, this gradual way is unsatisfying. Once they become conscious of a child's bad habits, or his social misdemeanors, they want to end them immediately, no matter how long they may have existed. They are willing to do anything, but the results must be dramatic and immediate.

It should be plain enough that this is an impossible expectation. A habit, or a way of behaving which has continued for long has become an emotional pattern and that is not changed over night. One has to give the child a new viewpoint, or give him different treatment and a new inspiration for new ways of acting. One can't simply snap off the old way.

Any habit, any behavior will do for illustration for each is subject to the same laws. Let's say the child has established the habit of answering rudely or contemptuously when spoken to. He says, "You're a sap," when his mother tells him his table manners could be improved. He retorts, "Says you," when she asks him to bring up another load of logs for the fireplace.

Any parent can—and many parents do—say just as tartly, "You can't talk to me that way," and emphasize their remarks by punishment. But the child's attitude is the same even if he curbs his tongue. He still says within himself, "You're a sap" and "Says you."

But if his mother laughs and keeps on with her pleasant explanation of why table manners are important. If she says cheerfully, "Yes, says I" and expects the logs to be brought up, she offers an atmosphere hospitable to change.

The child finds that he gets more attention when he is civil than when he is rude. He takes less pride in his smartiness which is just what it sounds like, pretty juvenile. He finds it easier and easier to talk like those around him. They're nice people and so is he. Who said he wasn't?

If we dive right at behavior we want changed we put the child's back up. Making him change is a challenge to his personality. But to approach it indirectly, expecting it to fade out gradually instead of black-out, is compatible with human behavior.

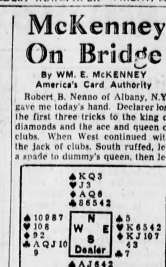

Our leaflet, "Bribes For Good Behavior," may be had by sending a 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope together with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

McKenney On Bridge

America's Card Authority

Robert B. Nenno of Albany, N.Y., gave me today's hand. Declarer lost the first three tricks to the king of diamonds and the ace and queen of clubs. When West continued with the jack of clubs, South ruffed, led a spade to dummy's queen, then led the jack of hearts. When the finesse held, dummy's three of hearts was led and the queen finessed. Now South led a spade to the king, came back to his hand with the jack of spades, and when he led the ace of spades East was squeezed. He could not hold the jack and ten of diamonds and the king and one heart.

As Nenno said, the hand is much simpler to make by just counting up to 10. When South ruffs the third lead of clubs, he should go over to the ace of diamonds in dummy and finesse the heart. Now he should make sure to ruff two hearts with the king and queen of spades, and ruff two more clubs. Thus he will make seven trump tricks, two hearts and a diamond.

Willa Black Guest Speaker

NEW YORK, May 19—(CP)—The Canadian Junior Leagues are uniform, particularly Colonel Margaret Eaton, head of the Canadian Women's Army Corps and a member of the Junior League of Toronto, and Wing Officer Willa Walker, head of the women's division of the R.C.A.F. and member of the Montreal League, Willa Black of Westmount, Que., representatives of Junior leagues in Winnipeg, Vancouver, Victoria, Toronto, Halifax and Hamilton, reported to the board of directors of the association of the Junior League of America, which met here.

Miss Black discussed special projects of the various leagues.

"The Winnipeg league's art appreciation project in the schools has met with great success," she said. "Since October, over 4,000 children have visited t e art gallery and over 12,000 have seen exhibits and had classes in school.

RAISED $8,000

"The Vancouver league raised over $8,000 to help maintain their welfare commitments and provide war gifts."

She also reported on employment of Canadian women now and in the post-war years, estimating that only 750,000 of the 1,200,000 women now employed will be needed to fill jobs after the war.

Of the 1,200,000, 260,000 are in direct or indirect war industry and 58,000 women are serving in the armed forces, Miss Black said. When the war is over, 750,000 will be required for normal employment, and about 270,000 will return to their homes, while "approximately 180,000 will remain to be cared for."

Personals

MRS. R. P. MALONE and Mrs. George Hunt entertained at the home of the former on Friday afternoon, when her guest was Miss Betty Jean Johnstone, whose marriage to Sub-Lt. Peter Anthony Lefroy, R.C.N.V.R., will take place early in June. Gladioli and early summer flowers were used throughout the drawing room, and the tea table was arranged in navy style with a white table cloth, crisscrossed with blue ribbon to represent waves. Miniature ships, light houses and lakes, complemented by a variety of colorful shells made the arrangement unique. Twenty-six guests were present. Pouring tea were Mrs. Stuart Johnstone, and Mrs. R. Hunt. Three sorority friends of the bride-elect, Miss Mary Soper, Miss Betty Wilson and Miss Kay Hutchinson were serveurs. A miscellaneous assortment of gifts was presented to the bride-elect in a large white sailboat drawn on a wagon.

Among visitors in the city from Calgary are Mrs. Charlie Marples, H. W. Roberts, Mrs. W. E. Robinson, Miss Patricia Farquharson, Carlo Chiorando, Anne Lillias Robertson, Bevan Neil Niven, Thelma Harbridge, Jack Brown, Bandsman L. D. Wright, Florence Megas.

Invasion Ports Said Crammed With Supplies

By ROBERT DOWSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

LONDON, May 19—Radio Berlin said today English ports now were "crammed to the bursting point" with equipment for an Allied landing in western Europe and exile leaders warned the Belgian people that "not much time remains" for them to complete their pre-invasion preparations.

Dr. Harald Jansen, Berlin radio commentator, said Portsmouth, Plymouth, Bristol, Hull and London were the principal ports where Britain was concentrating "her entire invasion materiel—which will have to be ferried across to the continent overnight in a few hours."

Recent Luftwaffe raids on Bristol and Portsmouth, two of the invasion springboards, thus were more important than Anglo-American bombings of our railway network," Dr. Jansen said.

GERMANS SPYING

German reconnaissance planes were reported active over north and northeast Scotland last night, presumably in an attempt to spy out any Allied preparations for a thrust across the North Sea to Denmark or northwest Germany.

The Germans have betrayed increasing concern over the possibility of an Allied landing on the Danish peninsula or in the Heligoland Bight, which provide the shortest routes to Berlin and might open up the Baltic to the Allied fleets.

Radio Belgique, voice of the Belgian exile government in London, told the people of occupied Belgium that they should hasten their preparations for action when Allied armies strike into Europe.

NOT MUCH TIME

"In a very few days, we shall give you further clear advice on certain important details," the broadcast said. "Have you completed your arrangements? Still a little time remains for you to do so—but not much."

The station reiterated its previous warning to the people to keep off the roads when land operations begin.

The Norwegian exile government also broadcast a warning to its people to "obey all orders and signals."

"The war has now entered its decisive phase," the broadcast said.

2,761,000 Persons Purchased Bonds In Victory Loan

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)— Finance Minister Ilsley said yesterday in the Commons that Sixth Victory Loan applications reported up to Wednesday number ed 2,761,000 against 2,607,000 for the same comparable period on the fifth loan.

The amount of subscriptions was $1,356,000,000 against $1,338,000,000 in the same period in the last loan.

The figures for the Sixth Loan still was incomplete, but Mr. Ilsley said he agreed with Gordon Grayson, Progressive Conservative House leader, who asked for latest figures, that the Canadian people deserved great credit for making the Sixth Loan a record one.

Nine Awards For Gallantry To Canadians

OTTAWA, May 19—The Department of National Defence today announced that nine new awards for valor in the Italian campaign had been approved by His Majesty the King.

The number includes one of the Distinguished Service Order, two of the Military Cross and six of the Military Medal.

The list of those receiving the awards is as follows:

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER

Lt. Col. John Stewart Ross, D.S.O., Royal Canadian Artillery of Quebec, P.Q.

MILITARY CROSS

Lt. John Wilson Courtney Biggs, M.C., Canadian Infantry Corps of New Westminster, B.C.

Lt. Stewart Lynch, M.C., Canadian Infantry Corps, Vancouver, B.C.

MILITARY MEDAL

Sgt. Ernest Winding, Canadian Infantry Corps, Dawson, Yukon Territory.

Cpl. Robert George Cartwright, Canadian Infantry Corps, Havelock, Ont., and Vancouver, B.C.

Cpl. Harold Bradley Leppard, Canadian Armored Corps, Ottawa, Ont.

Pte. (A.-Cpl.) Angus Donald MacLeod, Canadian Infantry Corps, New Aberdeen, N.S.

Pte. Norman Ivan Jakel, Canadian Infantry Corps, Vancouver, B.C.

Pte. Evan Thomas Ruck, Canadian Infantry Corps, Toronto, Ont.

Sgt. Ernest Winding, Canadian Infantry Corps, was born in Denmark, December 12, 1905, and his father still resides in that country. Prior to his enlistment he worked as a lumberjack in Dawson, Yukon Territory. He enlisted October 24, 1940, and went overseas in 1941. Sgt. Winding served in the Danish army from 1926 to 1928.

Cpl. Robert George Cartwright, Canadian Infantry Corps, was born in Edmonton, Alta., on October 28, 1919. He enlisted as a reinforcement August 19, 1942, and proceeded overseas on June 10, 1943. His wife, Mrs. Mabel I. Cartwright, lives at 960 8th avenue E., Vancouver, B.C. He was a mechanic at Havelock, Ont., before enlistment.

Nazis Cause Flood To Impede Allies On Anzio Front

ON THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD, Italy, May 19—(AP)—Germans on the Anzio beachhead front released the Mussolini canal reservoir yesterday and caused a small flood in Spaccasassi Creek, in the central sector of the beachhead.

The creek level rose about a foot. The Germans presumably hoped to inundate the creek bottoms, to bog armor and slow up patrols in any Allied thrust in that area.

For the first time this week, German long-range artillery shelled the port of Anzio this afternoon.

Quiz programs asking for the location of Bermuda almost always get the answer: East, southeast or south of Florida. It is none of these. Bermuda is about 600 miles directly east of Georgia, a little south of Atlanta. A peep at the map will show this. There are more than 300 islands in the Bermudas, which are owned by Great Britain, but most people the name Bermuda means honeymoon paradise.

A soldier consumes approximately one and one-half times as much food as the average civilian.

Vegreville General Hospital Nurses Receive Diplomas Here

The graduating class of the Vegreville General Hospital School of Nursing received pins, diplomas and prizes on Tuesday evening in the auditorium of the Separate school at Vegreville.

The annual traditional solemnity of the event of the graduation marked another milestone in the regular repetitious endeavor of the institution.

The auditorium was filled to capacity. The platform was decorated with a profusion of cut flowers.

The graduates entered wearing their uniforms, and carried bouquets of red roses. Miss Gibson played the processional march.

CONGRATULATIONS

Addresses of congratulations were delivered by the presiding chairman, Dr. Aug. Coulliard, Mayor J. B. Holden, S. C. Heckbert, Father J. H. Burke, His Grace Archbishop J. H. MacDonald of Edmonton, and Dr. M. A. R. Young of Lamont. They carried a note of appreciation to personal characteristics of those who have chosen the difficult field of nursing, at a time when almost any other field requiring lesser investments of time and effort, offers greater material advantages.

His Grace Archbishop MacDonald earnestly emphasized the ennobling quality of a perfect nurse. A nurse who seeks wider knowledge in her continued studies, in the experience of her work, and in the manifold duties she encounters within the multitudes of those whose sufferings she will be called upon to alleviate in the near future, as a result of the present war. "Understanding, a kindly attitude, and ambition to serve your fellow man," said His Grace, "constitutes the highest attributes of the nursing profession, a life closely synonymous with the actual principles of true Christianity."

VALEDICTORY

Miss J. Pelkie gave the Valedictory. She strove to give full expression to the value of the immeasurable aid, given by the sisters, doctors and instructors during the years of training, a service given to enrich and equip their entire lives with a will of future usefulness to others.

The Florence Nightingale pledge was led by Father Burke. The presentation of pins was made by Dr. E. W. Svarich, presentation of diplomas by His Grace Archbishop MacDonald, and the special awards to outstanding graduates by Mayor Holden.

Father Strickland was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Laing.

Following are the names of the graduates: Josophine Kupchenko, Katherine Petryk, Pauline Gish, Hazel McFarland, Annette Pelkie, Edith Landelis, Jean Romaniuk, Catherine Harchanko, Alba Bonaguro.

The proficiency gold medal presented by the Queen Elizabeth Guild was won by Miss Gish. The prize donated by the General hospital alumnae for highest standing in three years' theory, was won by Miss Landelis, and the prize donated by Father Burke for highest standing in medical ethics, was won by Miss Harchanko. Awarded by Sister Josophine for reliability and nursing spirit, a prize was won by Miss Bonaguro.

Japanese Report Soerabaja Raided

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, May 19.—(AP)—The Japanese-controlled Batavia radio reported last night that Soerabaja, Java, Japan's main base in the Netherlands East Indies and former headquarters of the Dutch Eastern fleet, has been bombed heavily. Soerabaja lies 1,300 miles west of Darwin, Australia, and was occupied by Japan March 8, 1942.

OUT OUR WAY

50 DC-4 Planes Ordered by Govt. At $350,000 Each

OTTAWA, May 19—(CP)—The government has contracted with Canadian Vickers Ltd., of Montreal for the construction of 50 DC-4 airplanes at a target price of $350,000 each, it was disclosed in an exchange of correspondence tabled yesterday in the Commons.

Munitions Minister Howe recently announced that DC-4's would be built by Vickers for use by the government-owned Trans-Canada Airlines.

The agreement between the government and company requires delivery of the first machine within 13 months of the delivery of engineering data to the company. Vickers will receive a fee of two per cent.

"Chinese" General Bound For Coast

VANCOUVER, May 19—(CP)—Morris Cohen, one-time Vancouver old clothes pedlar, now General Cohen of the Chinese army, will return here in June, his first visit in 20 years. He will bring with him his Canadian bride, Judith Clark, of Montreal, whom he will marry June 18. Former personal bodyguard of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, Cohen was captured by the Japanese in 1942 but returned to Canada on the exchange ship Gripsholm a few months ago.

Chindits Destroy 81 Nippon Planes

KANDY, Ceylon, May 19—(AP)—Air commandos were credited today with destruction of five Japanese aircraft in the air and 76 aground in connection with the mid-Burma Allied operations. Allied losses during the Chindit operations were listed as 23 aircraft. The air commandos constitute an air formation which operates in connection with Chindits who fight behind enemy lines.

Reservists Fined

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., May 19.—(CP)—Fourteen members of the Reserve Battalion, Westminster Regiment, were fined $5 and costs each when convicted in police court yesterday on charges of failing to attend a parade.

Natural hot water from many of Iceland's volcanic springs is piped to provide heat for office buildings, homes and public swimming pools.

Russians Seize Initiative at Lwow

By HARRISON SALISBURY
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

MOSCOW, May 19.—Red army troops, seizing the initiative on the southern approaches to Lwow, have captured a height of "great importance" in a surprise attack southeast of Stanislawow, the Soviet high command announced today.

The thrust enlarged the springboard from which the Russians are expected to launch a summer offensive against southern Poland and Hungary.

On a neighboring sector, the Soviets killed nearly 400 Germans and captured 40 more in repulsing several enemy attacks.

The Germans also attacked the Soviet bridgehead on the west bank of the lower Dnestr in an attempt to regain positions lost the previous day, but fell back after losing 600 men and seven tanks.

Task Force Hits Soerabaja Base

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—The Tokyo radio said today Soerabaja, one of Japan's key bases in the Netherlands East Indies, had been raided twice by Allied bombers on the mornings of May 17 and 18, and the Japanese account suggested that Allied naval and air task forces from India were carrying out another of their bold sweeps, this time in conjunction with United States Pacific forces.

The broadcast said some 50 bombers and fighters "coming from the direction of the Indian ocean" carried out the first attack.

"It appears as though the enemy came as a portion of a task unit based on an aircraft carrier," it added.

The following morning, Tokyo added, a string of bombers shot over Soerabaja "one by one" and appeared to be Consolidated bombers—such as operate from the Pacific.

Total Mobilization Of Manpower For Industry Forecast

VANCOUVER, May 19—(CP)—The Vancouver Province in a newspage story yesterday said that "absolute mobilization of Canada's industrial manpower is forecast in new Selective Service regulations now in the order-in-council stage in Ottawa."

The newspaper added:

"Objectives are:

"1. Compulsory transfer to essential war work of workers not included in 1943's seven compulsory job transfer orders which affected only those men in military call-up age groups.

"2. Prevention of manpower 'hoarding' by business and industry."

Killed in Action

TORONTO, May 19—(CP)—Lieut. David M. Dickie of the 48th Highlanders, aide-de-camp to Maj.-Gen. Christopher Vokes, was killed in action in Italy May 15 his mother was informed here yesterday.

Rates Reduced

LONDON, May 19—(CP)—The war risk insurance rate for cargo on voyages between the United Kingdom and Eire and the Pacific coast or North or Central America has been cut from 3¼ to three per cent, it was announced today.

Rotary President

CHICAGO, May 19.—(AP)—Richard H. Wells, Pocatello, Idaho, last night was named president of Rotary International, succeeding Charles L. Wheeler of San Francisco. The announcement was made at the 35th annual convention.

TIMBER BONANZA

Experts have estimated that Manchuria contains nearly 89,000,000 acres of forests with a timber stand of more than 150,000,000,000 cubic feet.

OCCUPATION: SMUGGLING

Agriculture is the main industry of Andorra, tiny principality between France and Spain. The location is so ideal for smuggling that smuggling is an important occupation of the natives.

Chicago Wheat Futures Down

CHICAGO, May 19—(AP)—Commission house selling depressed wheat futures prices in moderate trading today and caused a slight recession in the rye market. The firm position of cash wheat tended to offset the effects of excellent growing weather and a favorable outlook for the winter crop.

Estimates of total Canadian wheat acreage this year placed it at 20 million acres, an increase of about four million acres over that seeded in 1943.

There was heavy buying of December oats by a leading broker with local traders supplying the offerings. There also was some selling of December oats by cash interests against purchases of September.

May wheat, oats and barley held at ceilings. Active wheat futures closed ¾ to 1½ lower; oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher; rye was ⅜ to 1¼ lower and barley was unchanged to ⅛ lower.

Wheat Close: May 1.73⅜, July 1.65⅜-¼, Sept. 1.61⅞-1.62, Dec 1.61⅞-¾.

Oats: May 82, July 77⅝-¾, Sept. 72⅛, Dec. 70⅝.

Rye: May 1.20, July 1.18¼-⅜, Sept. 1.15⅛-¼, Dec. 1.15⅞-1.16⅛.

Barley: May 1.28, July 1.22½, Sept. 1.13½.

Cash wheat, none; barley, malting, 1.25-1.44½n.

Export Business Market Feature

WINNIPEG, May 19—(CP)—Wheat export business totalled more than 400,000 bushels today on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Approximately 250,000 busheds was purchased by the United Kingdom and 170,000 bushels by the United States Commodity Credit Corporation. Top Canadian grades were concerned.

Other transactions included the sale of 150,000 bushels of oats to western domestic interests.

Rye futures moved irregularly in a moderately active session. May and July displayed strength and October weakness. Light offerings aided in fair advances.

Closing prices were ⅛-1½ lower with May at $1.18⅛, July $1.17q and October $1.15¼.

Cheap Gasoline

Dr. Ernest Berl, research professor at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, told the American Chemical society he has a process for making gasoline and coal from farm, forest and sea plant. Example: sugar cane planted on 2.1 per cent of America's available crop lands could produce as much gasoline as America's 32,000,000-cars used before the war, and the sugar of the cane could be removed first.

LONDON, May 19—(CP)—The stock market closed with a firm tone today and trading volume was slightly increased. Industrials, especially brewery and heavy industry shares, were firm while home rails held steady and oils hardened. Internationals were irregular and British funds selectively higher.

ICTHYIC AERONAUTICS

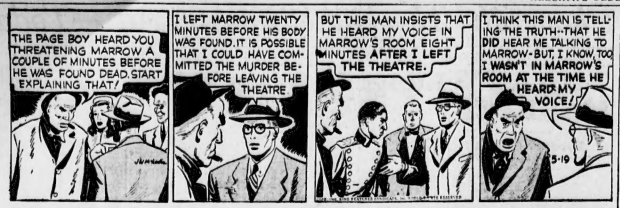

Flying fish do not fly, but merely glide through the air. After getting up speed in the water, the fish takes to the air, and wind currents and momentum do the rest. Considerable speed is attained and a distance of 500 feet is often covered by these fish.

Alberta Ready Act on Health Insurance Plan

The province of Alberta will be ready to act on the Dominion health insurance plan just as soon as it is passed and becomes law, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, stated Friday.

The minister just returned from Ottawa, where he and Dr. Malcolm R. Bow attended a Dominion-provincial conference concerning the proposed health insurance scheme.

Dr. Cross said some doubt exists as to whether the legislation will be brought before the House of Commons at its present session. No assurance had been given at the conference that it will be dealt with this year.

At the conference, Alberta had urged bringing the health plan into effect step by step, and the province should be allowed to raise funds necessary in any way they saw fit, said Dr. Cross.

IS SATISFIED

He expressed satisfaction on conference results, saying, "On the whole, I was well pleased with the conference, and feel we can make a start in this province just as soon as the act is passed."

The Dominion plan, as submitted at the conference, proposed that the general plan should go into operation at the start, with each person more than 16 years old paying a poll tax of $12 annually to contribute to its cost.

(Since the conference concluded, the Commons' social security committee has recommended that each province should be allowed to fix the amount of each person's contribution under the health plan.)

According to Ottawa dispatches, the matter of contributions will not be decided, until the health legislation is finally acted upon by the Dominion and provincial governments.

Dr. Cross said this plan of action was a step in the direction which had been advocated by Alberta.

Under the Dominion plan, that government is prepared to grant $3.60 per capita for free hospitalization: 35 cents per capita for public health work such as preventive medicine and health units, and one quarter of the present cost to any province, for tuberculosis treatment.

FREE HOSPITALIZATION

If the Dominion would give Alberta grants for these three items of the present plan, then the province could start immediately on a free hospitalization plan, said Dr. Cross. In addition, the present free tuberculosis work and free social disease campaigns could be continued.

The three items referred to would cover all parts of the general health insurance plan, with the exception of dependents and medical services. At the present time, men are not available for these two items.

WITHOUT TAX

Such a partial plan could be operated without a tax being imposed, Dr. Cross said, pointing out Alberta had urged introduction of the insurance plan by stages. In addition, the operation of a limited scheme would allow the government to estimate accurately what the tax should be to cover medical and dental services.

The minister said he felt the tax could be set at a lower figure than the estimated $12 a head. Alberta thought the money should be raised by any means seen fit, including that from the general fund, if this was decided upon.

Red Cross Ready For Primrose Day

More than three hundred "angels of mercy" dressed in the trim white uniform of the Canadian Red Cross will be offering posies to citizens of Edmonton in the downtown section of the city on Saturday.

The posies are no regular flowers. They are the efforts of Junior Red Cross members in Edmonton schools, who have been busily growing them during the spring months.

Saturday is crippled children's day, the climax of the activities of 4,500 Red Cross juniors of the city, who have aided in restoring to health about 2,200 little crippled Albertans since 1922, when they were organized.

Assisting the juniors will be many adult friends, organized by Mrs. S. Israel, who has been in charge of this annual appeal for the last four years and is again convener of a large committee.

The taggers expect last year's record success to be surpassed and emphasize that "when you buy a primrose tag, you help a crippled child."

Civil Servants Plan Coast Meet

The bi-annual convention of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada will be held in Vancouver on May 22. Two days previous, on May 20, a national council meeting will also be held, to arrange the agenda. Some 75 resolutions are to be placed before the convention proper, dealing with conditions of the civil service and recommendations to be made to the government for the betterment of civil service.

In attendance will be delegates from coast to coast, and from all departments of the civil service. The Edmonton delegates are: Lloyd Jones, 10303 97 Ave., president of the local council, and H. Payne, national vice-president.

Nazis Clear New Italo Coast Areas

LONDON, May 19.—(CP) — A Swiss radio broadcast said last night the Germans had ordered evacuation of all civilians from Genoa, Rapallo, 10 miles southeast of Genoa, and other coastal localities before May 20. This suggests the Germans fear Allied landings in that area, 250 miles up the coast of Italy from the Anzio beachhead.

Legion Concert Attended by 450

The final Canadian Legion "at home" of the season, held in Memorial hall Thursday night, was attended by 450 members and their friends. The program included dancing, award of lucky prizes and a concert.

Jack Jones acted as master of ceremonies and artists contributing to the program were Shirley Neher, Ronald McNeill, Jimmie Dent, Betty Morgan, Frank Wilkinson, Betty Sims, Connie Ford and Bill Neas.

City Families Gain Benefits Maternity Plan

Parents of about 300 babies born in Edmon.on during the month of April will receive benefits under the provincial government's free maternity hospitalization plan, according to figures released Friday by local hospitals.

At the Royal Alexandra hospital, while about 150 babies were born in April, it is estimated that 100 families will qualify under the legislation. At the University hospital, 38 births will qualify; at the Misericordia, 120 and at the General, 48.

Only one nursing home in the city is recognized as approved under the act, and it is understood there were no births at this institution in April.

The legislation came into effect in the province on April 1, after enactment at the last session of the provincial house.

It was estimated the plan would cost the province $643,000 in the present fiscal year.

Feed Association To Meet in City

Second annual meeting of the Alberta Feed Manufacturers' Association, to be attended by trade representatives from Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, will be held at the Macdonald hotel on Wednesday, June 7, it was announced Friday.

Session will begin at 10 a.m., reconvening at 2 p.m. and 6:45 p.m., with a dinner concluding business at 7:30 p.m.

Taking part in proceedings will be J. G. Davidson, Dominion feeds administrator, Ottawa; Prof. J. W. G. McEwen, animal husbandry department, University of Saskatchewan, and Dean R. D. Sisler, of agriculture faculty, University of Alberta.

A. Graeme Kirstine is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Fire Threatens Athabasca Town

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

ATHABASCA, May 19. — The whole town of Athabasca was threatened when the British-American Oil Company shed caught fire Thursday night. The blaze was discovered at 9:45 p.m. and in about 10 minutes nearly all the townspeople were at the scene. Several nearby families were evacuated to the country. The shed was about half full of drums of oil and gas which kept up a continuous round of explosions for 15 or 20 minutes. Two lines of hose were brought into play by the big tanks cool as they were only about three feet from the shed. James Otteson the B.-A. agent at Athabasca, had to move his office from the scene of the fire.

Say No Increase In Sugar Ration

The traditional June bride may find herself minus the nice home made wedding cake if she is relying on the ration board to let her in more sugar.

It was announced Friday by ration board officials that requests have been steadily coming in from brides-to-be for an allowance of from five to seven pounds more sugar.

Although the officials feel it is a worthy cause and that everything should be done to help, they do not find it possible to ease the present regulations.

Crushes Foot

Ronald Logan, 11328 86 street, was admitted to the Royal Alexandra hospital at 11.15 a.m., Thursday, suffering from a crushed foot. He was injured while at work in Calder C.N.R. shops and was taken to hospital by Smith's ambulance.

Before the Magistrate

Louis Phillips hadn't been in Edmonton for 20 years prior to August 1943, he told Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., Friday morning. He had lived here from 1942, until 1941. He had a business in Northern Manitoba. He did have a name, though, he added, spelling it in his own defence on a charge of intoxication. This namesake had even got his fingerprint card.

Louis sat down, suddenly, when he found that the case against him had been dismissed, and that he was free to go.

To Marry on Sunday

HOLLYWOOD, May 19.—(AP)—Movie Actress Paulette Goddard, 33, and Air Forces Capt. Burgess Meredith, 36, former film and stage actor, obtained a marriage license yesterday at suburban Santa Monica. They said they would wed Sunday at the home of Mrs. Edgar Bevery Hills. Each has been married twice before, one of Miss Goddard's previous marriages being to Charlie Chaplin, actor-producer.

Larry Allen Says:

Nazi Line Deep in France Ordered Held to Last Man

The following is the first dispatch from Larry Allen, Pulitzer Prize-winning Associated Press war correspondent, now being repatriated after 20 months in Italian and German prison camps. —EDITOR.

By LARRY ALLEN

ABOARD THE GRIPSHOLM AT BARCELONA, May 19.—(AP)—Nazi Germany, apparently expecting the Allies to smash through the Atlantic Wall defences, is concentrating on completion of a second great system of fortifications deep in France, and has told her soldiers that the line must be held "until the last man."

As our invasion nears, Germany's vast network of communications still is largely intact despite heavy Allied bombings.

In all the heavily-bombed cities there is considerable destruction of factory areas and residential districts, but all the way from the Polish Corridor to Marseilles I didn't see a single railroad station destroyed or even seriously damaged.

I passed through Poznan, Gorlitz, Dresden, Munich, Stuttgart, Karlsruhe and other points, and at some of them I was told that as many as 32 passenger trains roll through the stations every 24 hours.

(A large part of Allen's route was across southern and eastern Germany where Allied bombings have not been as severe as in other parts. The remainder of the route to France was across the upper Rhineland where quick repairs may have been made.)

Germans Become Nervous at Anzio

By ROBERT VERMILLION

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

ANZIO BEACHHEAD, Italy, May 19.—Nightly artillery bombardments now are causing violent reactions from the Germans, whose giant searchlight beams sweep the fields from which they expect an Allied attack.

The Nazis have shown signs of increasing nervousness all around the Beachhead perimeter as the Allied Fifth Army of the main Italian front advanced toward the Pontine Marshes within 37 miles of the great port of Rome.

German machine gunners rake no man's land, lighted up by bright flares and the searchlights, whenever they suspect the slightest Allied activity.

The capture of Cassino and Monastery hill heightened the anticipation of Allied troops on the beachhead, all of whom feel that the battle of Italy is approaching a climax after a long, dreary winter.

87th V.C. Award Goes to British Prisoner of War

LONDON, May 19—(CP)—Major (temporary Lieut. Colonel) Henry Robert Foote, Canadian-born prisoner of war, has been awarded the Victoria Cross, 87th of the war, two years after his leadership defeated an Axis attempt to encircle two Allied divisions during the 1942 retreat in the western desert, it was announced yesterday.

Foote, a member of the Royal Tank Corps, was reported a prisoner in November, 1942. When his tank was disabled he continued on foot under intense fire, encouraging his men by his splendid example. Foote by his brilliant leadership defeated the Axis attempt to encircle two divisions.

Prisoner of War

NEW WATERFORD, N.S. May 19.—(CP)—AB. George Campbell, reported missing in the sinking of the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan, is a prisoner of war in Germany, his father, Alex. Campbell, said he had been advised yesterday. Campbell was believed to be the first member of the Athabaskan's crew to be reported definitely as a prisoner.

Airgraph Mail Rates Reduced

OTTAWA, May 19.—Postmaster-General Mulock said yesterday in the Commons that the cost of airgraph messages to those in the forces is being reduced from six to five cents. The civilian rate is being reduced from 15 cents to 10 cents.

Col Mulock said the cost of airgraph messages to the forces had been reduced from 10 cents to six in 1942.

Col. Mulock said there had been substantial improvements in the speed of mail transport to those in the forces overseas.

The time required for transport of ordinary mail to the United Kingdom has been reduced from an average of 30 days to 15 and air letters from 10 to eight days. There had been no change in the time required for shipment of parcels.

Surface mail to the Mediterranean area used to require 90 days, but has been reduced to an average of 20. Air letters to this area now took an average of 10 days compared to 24, and parcel mail now took an average of 40 days compared with 90.

Military Caravan From B.C. Bound For Wainwright

VANCOUVER, May 19.—(CP)—A giant military caravan composed of five separate convoys, artillery, anti-aircraft, ordnance, medical and dental, was in the first stages last night of a 1,000-mile trek across the narrow mountain ledges of the Rockies, down deep gullies, up steep trails, on the first lap of its journey to Wainwright, Alta., for summer training.

Leaving Vancouver, Vernon, Prince George and other points in British Columbia, the convoys will meet at Revelstoke Sunday and tackle the trip across the Rockies from that Kootenay centre.

It is expected 127 officers, 2,287 other ranks, 540 vehicles will take part in the journey.

In Mediterranean

Edmonton Airmen Serve With Transport Squadron

OTTAWA, May 19.—(CP)—This is the story about the "bombs and blood' transport squadron of the R.A.F. in the Mediterranean who consider themselves truck drivers because they have carried everything from paratroops to Spitfires. Others consider them heroes because they have hand-rolled bombs at Germans and landed behind enemy lines to mine bridges.

Containing many Canadians the squadron, now flying Dakotas, operates between Gibraltar and Cairo. One of its biggest tasks was flying 16,000 casualties out of North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

Flt. Lt. Art Brown, Hawarden, Sask., told something of the job his squadron has done.

"We used to fly whole Spitfires up to the 8th Army," he said. "The fuselage of a Spitfire will just fit in one of these Dakotas."

"BOMBS AND BLOOD"

WO. Stewart Mutch, Norquay, Sask., Brown's wireless operator, said the sandard load in those days was called "bombs and blood."

"It was made up of bombs for the forward bomber squadrons and blood plasma for the casualties," he said. "Of course the 'bombs and blood' weren't for the same guys."

PO. Hugh Wilson, Edmonton and New Westminster, B.C., is a wireless air gunner with the squadron. FO. K. M. Humphrey, Picture Butte, Alta., is a co-pilot.

Other Canadians on the squadron include FO. J. E. Bradley, Edmonton, and WO. Jack Milburn, Prince George, B.C.

NAZI E-BOATS PLANES WATCH FOR INVASION

LONDON, May 19.—(CP)—The Germans have established their outposts against invasion—almost nightly patrols by E-boats and bombers which the Germans reported this week were ranging the channel and 500 miles of the English south coast from the Thames estuary westward around to Bristol.

But the E-boats even by German accounts are finding the British have control of this naval No-Man's Land.

The official German account of an E-boat battle Wednesday night reported repeated clashes with British destroyers and motor torpedo boats. The only locality mentioned for such encounters was off Le Treport, which is near Dieppe, and thus the battle wrests evidently penetrated much nearer the coast of France than the Germans did to England's south coast.

Says Social Work Should Supplement Private Endeavor

WINNIPEG, May 19. — (CP)— Rev. J. G. Fullerton of Toronto told the National Conference of Social Work here yesterday that public welfare programs should supplement, not compete with or submerge private organizations in their traditional fields of work.

Father Fullerton, director of the Toronto Catholic Welfare Bureau, spoke at the closing session of the four-day conference, attended by delegates from Canada and the United States.

E. H. Blois of Halifax, deputy minister of public welfare for Nova Scotia, was elected president of the conference succeeding Mrs. R. F. McWilliams of Winnipeg. The 10th biennial conference in 1946 will be held in Halifax.

Miss Joy A. Mains of the Ottawa Council of Social Agencies, Wednesday was elected president of the Canadian Association of Social Workers.

Two Fire Calls

Fire in the basement of a dwelling at 143 street and 103 avenue, at 8.58 p.m. Thursday, had been dealt with by the occupants, city firemen found upon their arrival. In a previous call, at 8.42 p.m., slight damage was done to a neon sign of the Armitage-McBain Lumber Co., Ltd., Jasper avenue and 93 street. The blaze, said due to a short circuit in the wiring, was brought under control by a chemical line.

It is estimated that 62 per cent. of the world's population above the age of 10 years is illiterate.

Capt. W. R. Hoag of Rimbey, who has returned to his home after three years' service overseas. Mrs. Hoag motored to Calgary to meet him. He served overseas with the Calgary Tanks, and was returned on account of being in a low medical category.

Songs, Catcalls Mark Passing Of Repatriates

ABOARD THE GRIPSHOLM at Barcelona, Spain, May 19.—(AP)—The exchange ship Gradisca sailed for Marseille yesterday, its rails lined with almost 1,000 Germans who passed within 50 yards of the liner Gripsholm which will carry 900 British Empire and United States troops home from Nazi prison camps.

A battle of ship-to-ship songs and catcalls began and lasted for half an hour.

To the German Horst Wessel song, the British repatriates replied with "There'll Always Be An England" and "Tipperary."

Then the battle got rough.

Out came the British war prisoners song "Six Germans and One Piece of Bread", sung in German for the benefit of the homing Nazis. Then came "And Where is the Afrika Corps Now?" and "See You in Berlin."

Regret Canadian Air Plan Dropped

LONDON, May 19.—(CP)—The magazine, Aeroplane, yesterday criticized as "unfortunate" the statement by British of Canada's plan for post-war civil aviation in favor of United States proposals.

It said this step was "not only in itself unfortunate, but on the face of it, it can hardly be conducive to international confidence and co-operation."

The magazine said it was not wholly convinced that what it termed such a major concession was necessary at this stage if an international civil aviation conference is held in the autumn until probably after the United States' presidential election in November.

It pointed out the Canadian plan had been side-tracked was made by Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born Lord Privy Seal, in the House of Lords May 10.

Liaison Officer

MERRITT, B.C., May 19.—(CP)—Lt.-Cmdr. Peyton Goldwin Monck, R.N.R., of nearby Nicola stock farm, has been appointed British naval liaison officer in the headquarters of the American fleet, Pearl Harbor. Lt.-Cmdr. Monck has been assistant liaison officer for the British navy at Boston, Mass., for the past year.

Hon. Solon E. Low, leader of the Social Credit Association of Canada, who recently suffered an attack of bronchitis and pleurisy, has left for the Pacific coast for a rest period. Mr. Low, Alberta's provincial treasurer and minister of education, will be away for some two weeks. He is accompanied by Mrs. Low.

Stutchbury Cup, Memorial Trophy Are Awarded to Berneice McBeth

Berneice McBeth, young Edmonton singer, won the Stutchbury cup competition Thursday evening and the Bessie Evans Duggan Memorial Trophy Thursday afternoon at the sessions of the 37th annual Alberta Musical Festival, being held in Edmonton this week in the Masonic Temple and McDougall United church.

Sir Ernest MacMillan, Toronto, said in his adjudication of Miss McBeth's singing that she is an accomplished singer, and has delightful flow of singing. She sang "Orpheus and His Lute" by Arthur Sullivan.

To Ian Docherty, Vancouver, went the second prize. He had amazing flexibility, fine phrasedology, and is an accomplished singer, Sir Ernest said.

WINS HIGH PRAISE

In class 48 for baritone or bass solo, open, competing for the Shenley Challenge Trophy, J. J. Walker, the only contestant won 175 marks and high praise for an excellent performance.

Max Pirani, Vancouver, adjudicator, said this singer gave an intelligent, impressive performance. He had good phrasing and a shapely outline of singing.

The only entry in the open piano class competing for the Calgary Women's Musical Club cup, Miss Nelda Faulkner obtained 175 marks. Mr. Pirani said this player gave a good idea of the piece of music as a whole, her shading was excellent, and within its limits, it was a good performance.

Miss Donna Fraser won 91 marks for her concerto class, open. Mr. Pirani said he could not find enough words to express all the fine things he wanted to say of this player's performance.

VANCOUVER WINNER

For his singing of the "Wanderer" Ian Docherty, Vancouver, won the Clifford Jones challenge cup in the lieder, open class, with 88 marks.

Sir Ernest said the singer caught the mood of the song, had fine change of tempo and gave an impressive performance, as did his accompanist, Mary Hatlen.

Second in this class was Miss Berneice McBeth with 87 marks and again she won high praise for her accomplished performance.

Thursday afternoon at the Masonic Hemple in class 52 for soprano under 19 years, Miss Ruth Cullerne caused Sir Ernest to exclaim "here is a voice!" She won 178 marks and was told she gave a splendid performance. Two girls tied for second place—Cecile Vallee and Doris Milne.

Edward Link, Calgary gained 172 marks for the baritone class for lads under 19 years. Don Wilson was second with 165 points. Sir Ernest was high in his praise of these contestants, who had fine tone control, easy steady breath and good possibilities for the future.

RECEIVES 170 MARKS

Lois Karran won 170 marks and Dorothy Clarke 165 in the mezzo soprano class for those under 19 years. The girls did a good job the adjudicator said.

Last class in the afternoon, class 55 for mezzo soprano under 22 years was won by Mary Young, 170 marks, and second, Ruth C. Drew, Kitscoty, 169 marks. Sir Ernest said these girls had their music well prepared.

At McDougall United church Thursday afternoon Miss A. Fiona Anderson was second with 145 marks in the open mezzo soprano solo class, which Miss McBeth won.

Doreen Stanton came first with 172 marks and John Henry second with 168 in class 77 for senior piano students under 23 years.

Kathleen Busby won the Edmonton Musical Club challenge shield for class 44, soprano, open, and Muriel Norwood Batty, Kitscoty, was second with 174. Sir Ernest said Miss Busby is an accomplished singer. She gave a splendid performance.

EXCELLENT PERFORMANCE

In the lieder, junior (duet for voice and pianoforte) for vocalists under 17 years and accompanist under 16, Dorothy Livingstone and Lawrence Kay won 88 marks and Therese Turgeon and Irene Bowerman won 78. Sir Ernest said the winners gave excellent performance.

Concluding his adjudication Thursday afternoon Sir Ernest congratulated Alberta on producing so many promising voices. There are very good voices worth talking about he said.

Trophy Winner

Berneice McBeth, talented Edmonton singer, who won the Stutchbury Cup and Bessie Evans Duggan Memorial Trophy at Thursday's sessions of the 37th annual Musical Festival.

Dr. Harold Orr Rotary Speaker

Guest speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club Thursday at the Macdonald hotel was Dr. Harold Orr, provincial director for social hygiene, who spoke on "The Problem of Venereal Disease."

Dr. Orr said that Alberta ranks among the very lowest in venereal disease rate, and has the lowest rate on the North American continent.

He pointed out that Alberta had leadership in this problem and its policy of progressiveness has been maintained.

Following his address, he conducted an open forum, answering questions from the floor. Dr. Orr was introduced by President Reg Rose, who presided as chairman.

Guests at the head table included Vern Sadd, chairman of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce and Anti-Venereal Disease committee, and Dr. G. M. Little.

Former City Man Missing in Action

Word has been recived by Mrs. Margaret Stubelt, R.R.3, New Westminster, B.C., that her husband Sgt. Robert Stubelt, airgunner attached R.A.F., is missing in air operations overseas.

Sgt. Stubelt attended Ritchie and King Edward schools here. He worked in Quebec prior to his enlistment. He was graduated from an R.C.A.F. school at Macdonald, Man. in August, 1943, and went overseas immediately. Mrs. Stubelt believes her husband made 12 to 15 flights over enemy territory.

Sgt. Stubelt's mother, Mrs. William Lemeurier resides in Quebec. His wife and two children at New Westminster, B.C.

Lions Hear Address On Court Procedure

C. G. Purvis, K.C., crown prosecutor, was guest speaker at the regular Thursday luncheon meeting of the Lions club at the Macdonald hotel. He spoke on police court procedure and law enforcement.

Mr. Purvis related many cases of law infractions unwittingly committed by law abiding citizens in their every day life and stated that it is the duty of every loyal citizen to abide by the law of the federal, provincial and city governments.

In referring to the punishment meted out by penal institutions in this country as compared to European countries, Mr. Purvis said that in his opinion Canada's system of handling criminals today is one of the most humane methods.

Mr. Purvis, at the conclusion of his address, praised the Lions club for their Sunset Cottages project which is operated for the express purpose of making life more comfortable for less fortunate aged persons and suggested that Lions clubs from coast to coast seriously consider sponsoring the same project in their clubs.

He was introduced by Lion Cyril Jones. Lion H. S. (Jack) Reynolds presided as chairman in the absence of President Gordon Owen.

Junior Service Bureau Again Will Function

The Edmonton Junior Service Bureau, inaugurated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce during the summer of 1943, will begin operations again this year on July 15, it was announced Thursday.

Members of the executive committee of the bureau are Betty Boon, managing director; Margaret Muir, secretary; Eric Geddes, business and finance; June Clooney and Frances Stanley, war stamps sales; Ina Ward, program; Gordon McCormick, sport activities director, and Barbara Newnham and Delores Kimball, publicity.

"Y" HEADQUARTERS

The Junior Service Bureau's headquarters will be located in the Y.M.C.A. Clark Ready, Y.M.C.A. general secretary, is chairman advisor for the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The bureau's program this year will be much the same as last summer's, offering members instruction for such jobs as child care, gardening, messenger service and other types of work; providing sports and entertainment for members conducting a campaign for war stamp sales, and in general providing facilities for young people during the summer months.

Last year, at least 1,200 boys and girls were registered with the bureau and filled many types of jobs ranging from minding babies to mowing lawns. During their war stamp campaign, they sold more than $6,000 worth of stamps in one week.

Registration for membership in the bureau will begin July 1 at the Y.M.C.A. Job contracts will not be fulfilled until after July 15. Further details will be announced at a future date.

Farm Machinery Is Said Limited

Addressing implement manufacturers, distributors and dealers in this city, H. H. Bloom, administrator of farm and construction machinery and Canadian representative on the farm and food processing machinery committee of The Combined Production and Resources Board, Washington, stated that while every possible consideration was being given to the farmers' need for equipment, that the supplies that can be made available and which are being released for production after July 1 to be available in 1945, are limited to the manpower, critical materials and components that can be allocated to the production of same.

Having due regard for the needs of the Armed Services for mechanized equipment and other tools of war, the production of which by reason of the materials used, conflicts with implement production. Furthermore the urgent need for equipment for Britain and other Empire countries as well as for relief in devastated liberated areas is very real and must receive its part helping to care for these. Also in addition to essential domestic needs, provision must be made to provide equipment to make possible the establishment of returned veterans on the land.

Production of goods for Canadian consumer needs are projected at slightly over 100 per cent of the tonnage total of farm machinery purchased by farmers in 1940 and production is being concentrated on types and sizes recommended as being most essential by agricultural authorities.

All restrictions on the production of repair parts will be removed in order that machines now in use can be maintained as new equipment. Even on a basis of 100 per cent of normal supply will only meet under present conditions the most essential and urgent needs and rationing will continue to assure proper distribution.

Mr. Bloom stated that provisions planned for this country compare favorably to that which are projected to be available to the farmers of United States and warned that with the acute manpower and critical material difficulties that are now being experienced, the projected program is already presenting major problems as to accomplishment.

Plan Price Ceiling On Fresh Berries

VANCOUVER, May 19—(CP)—The Vancouver Province said in a newspage story yesterday ceiling prices would be placed on strawberries and raspberries to protect consumers of fresh fruit and canners who last year found it impossible to procure fruit for their packing plants. Last year strawberries which normally sold here for five cents a box retailed at 18 cents and higher.
